Timely Tips

FLU SEASON - It's that time of year when kids will come home from school, hacking and coughing, inevitably having caught some bug from a classmate. When administering cough medicine, sometimes a kid will dribble it on his pajamas. To remove the stain, soak the garment for 15 minutes in a solution of one quart lukewarm water, 1/2 teaspoon of dish detergent, and a tablespoon of white vinegar. Rinse and wash as usual. Chris T.

PAINTING - Instead of taping a window before I paint, I apply wet strips of newspaper. When I'm done painting, they just peel right off. Linda R.

LUNCH TIME - When I make lunches for my kids to take to school, I always do it on a paper plate. I then fold the plate and put it, sandwich and all, into a plastic zipper-type bag and place it in the lunch box. This way, I have no mess from crumbs and stuff on my counter-tops. Bea K.
