Bob's Other Corner

It's getting ever more difficult to find movies that don't offend my tender sensitivities. I find most movies to be vapid, insipid and offensive, or a combination, and simply a waste of time, as far as I'm concerned, which is quite a distance. I mean, if I'm going to devote 90 to 120 minutes to something, it better be worthwhile.

And it seems to me that many of today's "stars" can't act their way out of a closet. Many have a single expression for all emotions, and they mumble their lines, which drives me nuts because I can't understand what they're saying in their roles.

In addition, ("supermarket tabloids," various magazines and TV programs take note) I could not care less about to whom they're married or for how long; what they enjoy for dinner; and with whom they're having a fling; or who's divorcing whom and why. Or why they're depressed, or their favorite recipes, or their cellulite problem. I don't care. It has no meaning in my life.

I don't want to see blatantly sexually oriented films disguised as "cute" or "with it" stories. I don't want to see gratuitous violence, nor do I enjoy tales of horror with grotesque creatures and heart-stopping sequences of unbelievable savagery. I want movies with substance.

It's tough to select movies because all too often the descriptions on the wrapper, obviously written by people who haven't watched the film, are misleading. Plus, you've got to read through all the tiny-print words, not just the first sentence or phrase, to avoid being led astray. Here are some examples:

*"Submarine Adventure." Starring Rock Hard and Suzie Smoochie, this compelling undersea drama takes viewers into a world of unparalleled beauty beneath the waves as a research vessel encounters gigantic, acid-shooting slime snakes while the intoxicated crew is engaged in a wild orgy and ... REJECT!

*"Pro Cheerleaders Rock!" Starring Jorja Retch, Sandee Beach, Maralunn Flingmaster and Barrbarraa Hotflash. A tender tale of what it's like to move into the big league of professional cheerleading, told from the perspective of four women who escaped from convents before entering the high-energy world of men's locker rooms, endless booze and drugs, plus ... REJECT!

*"Moon Monster Mash." Described as a "delightfully whimsical comedy" by the "N.Y. Times," this fast-paced sci fi extravaganza shows how easy-going space traveler Jacque Stropp becomes embroiled in a tangled web of outlandish incidents while outbound from the Moon to Venus while fighting off hordes of naked women and a stowaway fang-headed Moon monster with ... REJECT!

I think I'll go read a book. One with a plot.

You can take all the sincerity in Hollywood, place it in the navel of a firefly and still have room enough for three caraway seeds and a producer's heart.

PRESIDENTIAL EVENT -
Lorna Byrne Middle School 7th graders gather in the school's gymnasium Friday, Feb. 18 in recognition of Presidents Day which was officially observed Monday, Feb. 21. Students in individual groups took turns coming forward and presenting brief historical comments having to do with former presidents. The ceremony opened with the students reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.

Small story provides much food for thought

This is a story about an old man who explained to his young grandson about a battle inside himself.

The grandfather said, "My child, the battle inside me is between two wolves; one of which is evil, full of anger, envy, sorrow, regret, greed, arrogance, hypocrisy, self-pity, guilt, resentment, inferiority, lies, false pride, superiority and ego.

"The other," he said, "is so good; full of remembrance of faith, joy, peace, love, compassion, hope, serenity, humility, kindness, benevolence, empathy, generosity and truthfulness."

The grandson pondered a moment, and then asked, "Grandfather, which wolf will win the battle?"

Without a second's hesitation, the grandfather replied, "The one I feed."

If you consider what are called the virtues in mankind, you will find their growth is assisted by education and cultivation.
