Water, sewer rates in CJ could see increase

A possible overall rate increase of 18 percent for combined water and sewer charges will be voted on by the Cave Junction Council Monday night, July 25.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in city hall.

During its meeting Monday, July 18, two ordinances on the proposals underwent first readings.

Water rates would rise from $25 to $28 for the first 500 cubic feet, representing a 12 percent increase.

Sewer rates would rise from the current base rate of $25 to $31, a 24 percent hike.

Mayor Tony Paulson said that the rates are necessary because of higher material costs, operations, maintenance, repair and debt service. The added income is included in the adopted city budget for fiscal 2005-06.

If the ordinances are not approved, the budget will have to be revised, he said.

In a related matter, the council plans to confer with Josephine County commissioners Monday at 6 p.m. in the county building. The council wants to cut approximately 70 trees in the "old city park" at the south end of Old Stage Road.

Approximately $10,000 would be realized from the sale of the timber. There is a question about obtaining a county OK for the city to cut the dying trees in connection with who owns the property.

No good decision was ever made in a swivel chair.

CDC gives vaccine $$

U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden (R-Ore.) announced that the Oregon Dept. of Health Services will receive a $6,128,515 grant from the Centers for Disease Control Procurement and Grants Office.

The program slated to receive funding is Immunizations and Vaccines for Children (VFC), which supplies free vaccines for immunizing eligible children in public and private practices at no cost to participating health-care providers.

VFC aims to help Oregon reach its goal of having 90 percent of children up-to-date with their immunization series by age 2.

"Oregon children deserve every chance to lead healthy, productive lives, and childhood vaccinations are a vital first step," said Wyden. "This federal grant will move us closer to the goal of quality care for every Oregonian."

"Oregon's children have their best chance to learn, live happily and succeed when they are healthy," said Smith. "Vaccination is an expensive process, but with these funds, thousands of children will avoid debilitating infections and better enjoy their youth at no cost."

It's anticipated that the VFC program will benefit approximately 60 percent of U.S. children.

10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Your real estate agent has come up with a plan to sell your home. Now it's time for yours to take responsibility for a vital part of that plan - setting the right price to attract buyers.

That's right. It is you who sets the asking price - not your agent. Your pricing decision may either cause a sale, or leave your house on the market for an extended period. Needless to say, it's a decision you should not take lightly.

How can you determine the right price? To make an informed decision, you'll need information - lots of it. Enter your real estate agent.

Your agent has access to past sale prices and data about homes currently for sale. By looking at what other buyers have been willing to pay, it is possible to determine what others will pay now.

Your agent plays the role of information resource and may suggest an appropriate price range which buyers are likely to pay. Buyers tend to recognize a home priced fairly and will often pay full price when it is. When selling, make it happen by pricing your home carefully. Really!
