Fine arts and crafts, plus food, were featured Saturday, July 23, at an outdoor show sponsored by Southern Oregon Guild at Kerbyville Museum. The organization, which began in Cave Junction, now has quarters at the museum and is planning a number of artistic projects. Phone Reni Schaeffer at 596-2680 for more information.

Two artists join talents for exhibits

Illinois Valley artists George Richards and Cassandra Newton-Miller have established a partnership.

Their first large art display is on exhibit at the “A Creative Space” room above Blue Moon Café in Cave Junction and is a result of the July Art Walk.

The display will remain during July and into August.

The award-winning artists plan to work together in their respective studios, occasionally having invitational exhibitions of new artwork at Newton-Miller’s studio on Hwy. 199 a mile south of Cave Junction.

Several galleries on the coast now exhibit work of both artists including “Words and Pictures” in Brookings and “Grey Whales” in Gold Beach. Their work is in many private collections in Oregon, California, Washington and Nevada.

Newton-Miller, proficient in scratch-art and soapstone carving, recently has begun to work in oils (florals, landscapes and figures) as well as experimenting with scratch-oil.

Richards creates landscapes, florals and figures, some with a touch of science fiction. Both artists have been active in Illinois Valley Fine Artists Inc. for at least 14 years, participating in many local art events.

As part of their plans, the pair will participate in a photography study tour by train to Denver, Colo. in October. The tour will take them over the Sierras, providing many opportunities to take photos of the scenery for future artwork.

On the 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time we will read from Matthew about Jesus feeding more than 5,000 with five loaves and two fish. The fragments filled 12 baskets.

Speaking of food, on Saturday, Aug. 13, during the Blackberry Festival, St. Patrick volunteers will hold a barbecue in the church hall. Watch future articles for details.

Obituary

‘Jack’ Rollins

A funeral service for Cave Junction resident Walter Floyd “Jack” Rollins, 86, who died in Three Rivers Community Hospital in Grants Pass July 23, 2005, was held July 27 in Fortuna, Calif., with interment following at Sunrise Cemetery in Fortuna.

Mr. Rollins was born March 6, 1919 in Dallas, Texas to Thomas Tresvan Rollins and Grace (Hunt).

He farmed with his family as a young man in Texas, until he enlisted in the U.S. Army in 1943. Before his discharge nearly three years later, he served with the Cavalry.

He campaigned in India-Burma, Central Burma, and was in the China Offensive with E Troop 124th Infantry. The 124th Cavalry (dismounted) was part of the Mars Task Force operation. As one of two regiments involved in establishing an American combat division in the China-Burma-India theater, its task was to clear the Burma Road.

He earned marksmanship and campaign medals, plus a Bronze Star for good conduct.

After marrying his sweetheart on July 4, 1946 in Humboldt County, Calif., he worked for years in sawmills before gaining employment with Pacific Lumber Co. He was a locomotive engineer, hauling from “the woods” into Scotia.

He retired in 1984, and he and his wife of 59 years, Hettie Mae Rollins, moved to Cave Junction in 1985 after living for short periods in Missouri and Fortuna.

Mr. Rollins owned and enjoyed horses, hunting and fishing. His family said that he had what many recognized as a keen sense for good horses, and he enjoyed finding, raising, training and riding many American Quarter Horses. He was loved as a husband, father and grandfather, being the patriarch to a strong family.

Besides his wife, he is survived by all eight of his children: Tommie Joe Rollins, Virginia Mac Lamb, Annette Smith and Lonnie David Rollins, all of Cave Junction, Shirley Ann Houseworth, of Hydesville, Calif., Garvin Earl Rollins, of Bridgeville, Calif., and Walter Floyd Rollins Jr., and Paul Edward Rollins, both of Fortuna; a foster-son, Richard Wallace Shawver, of Bridgeville; 19 grandchildren; and 15 great-grandchildren.
