

State gets A-minus in battle vs. pests

The Invasive Species Council coordinates public and private sector activities on unwanted, non-native

Progress also was made in eradicating species on the list that have been intro-

"These are harmful species that are not native to Oregon," he said. "They move in and displace native species. People are beginning to realize that invasive non-native plants can become nasty weeds and that non-native insects can become pests of not just agricultural crops, but our forests."

According to the International Game Fish Association, the heaviest fish ever caught was a 2,664-pound great white shark, caught by Alfred Dean in 1959.

He said that voters set the position salary some time ago and that he would abide by that vote. He said his supporters feel that he

Rafferty concluded: "In the past we have elected board after board that has refused to put money aside for our future needs. We all know that Josephine County cannot afford to continue this trend. We must work together to find a way to pull ourselves up by our bootstraps, getting the job done."
