

Obituaries

Melvin R. Davis
Melvin Richard Davis, 75, of Cave Junction, died Tuesday, May 9, 2006 at Three Rivers Community Hospital in Grants Pass.
A private service will be held.
Remembrances may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.
Mr. Davis was born on Dec. 8, 1930 in Yakima, Wash. He was a self-employed log truck driver for 43 years. He moved from Redwood Valley, Calif. to Cave Junction 16 years ago. He was a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Cave Junction.
His hobbies included making redwood burl and myrtlewood clocks; working on cars; buying and selling cars; and collecting pen sets.
Surviving are his wife, Helen Davis, of Cave Junction; four daughters, Cheryl Simpson, of Salt Lake City, Kim Freiter, of Clackamas; Carroll Uselton, of St. Helens, and Penny Kay Terhune, of Shelton, Wash.; a brother, Larry Davis, of Goldendale, Wash.; 17 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.
He was preceded in death by his parents; a sister; and his son, Carol Shuler, in 1995.
Southern Oregon Cremation Service is charge of arrangements.

Michael Hews Gibson
Michael Hews Gibson, 57, of Cave Junction, died Thursday, May 4, 2006 at Three Rivers Community Hospital in Grants Pass.

No service is planned.
Mr. Gibson was born April 23, 1949 in Springfield, Ore. and was raised in Sacramento. He was involved with horse racing while living with his grandparents. His grandfather (Howard Conley) was a jockey, and Michael worked at the race track in the Sacramento area for 16 years before he became a long-haul trucker. When he moved to the Rogue Valley he continued driving locally until he was disabled.
He loved music, especially old Country music. He also enjoyed singing and playing his guitar.
Survivors are his sister, Debbie Caler, of Carter Lake, Iowa; and his brother, Larry Gibson, of Townsend, Mont.; three nephews; and four nieces. He also leaves behind his "significant other," Sande Moquin, of Cave Junction.
He was preceded in death by his father, Tom Gibson.
Donations are requested to: American Diabetes Association Oregon Affiliate 380 S.E. Spokane St., Suite 110, Portland OR 97202.
Hull & Hull Funeral Directors is in charge of arrangements.

Gene Nottingham
Gene Nottingham, 76, of Cave Junction, died peacefully Wednesday, May 10, 2006 at his home surrounded by his wife, Barbara, and friends after a long illness.
No service is planned. Remembrances can be made to Lovejoy Hospice, 939 S.E. Eighth St., Grants Pass OR 97526.
Mr. Nottingham was born on June 6, 1929 in Santa Ana, Calif. He served in the U.S. Coast Guard. He moved to Cave Junction from Clovis, Calif. in 1992.

He was a member of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks, and the National Campground Association. His hobbies included woodworking, traveling and reading. Detective stories were his favorite.
Surviving are his wife, Barbara D. Huff, of Cave Junction; a son, Larry Nottingham, of Sanger, Calif.; two daughters, Debra Kincaid, of Fayetteville, Ga., and Judy Nottingham, of Fresno, Calif.; two sisters; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.
Arrangements are pending with Hull & Hull Funeral Directors.

Werna 'Vicky' King
Werna (Vicky) King, 64, of Grants Pass, died May 7, 2006 at her home of liver cancer.
A funeral service was held Friday, May 12 at Calvary Chapel in Grants Pass. The officiant was the Rev. Pete Allen. Private interment was at Deer Creek Cemetery in Selma. Memorial contributions can be made to Grace Fellowship Church, P.O. Box 1245, Grants Pass OR 97528.
Mrs. King was born May 6, 1942 in East Prussia, Germany to Hans W. and Eleanor B. Funke. In 1950 her family came to the United States and became U.S. citizens shortly thereafter. Her family moved to Grants Pass in 1951.
She graduated from Grants Pass High School in 1962 and from Eugene Beauty

College in 1963. She was a beautician from 1963 to 2005, and enjoyed work and made many close friends.
"Most notable of Vicky was her strong faith in our Lord Jesus Christ and ability to help others understand the importance of rightly dividing the word of God," her family said. She enjoyed attending Grace Fellowship Church and taught youth Sunday School classes for 30 years.
On Nov. 10, 1979, She married Donovan N. King Jr. She appreciated her family home and many friends.
Besides her husband, Don, survivors are a daughter Nickola L. Johnson, of Grants Pass; a son, Chad D. Johnson, of Salem; a stepdaughter, Rhonda Ziegler, of Grants Pass; a stepson, Steven King, of Battle Ground, Wash.; two sisters, Heide Cummings, of Coos Bay, and Marianne Peterson, of Grants Pass; a brother, Werner Funke, of Houston; and three grandchildren. A sister, Lore, plus her parents, preceded her in death.
Arrangements were made through Illinois Valley Funeral Home.

Included were the two deputies, plus Mayor Tony Paulson, Councilman Margaret Miller, and City Recorder Jim Polk.

Rarey opened the get-together by outlining his experiences in Community Oriented Policing. And he stressed repeatedly that keeping a community safe comes down to community members taking a strong role -- not taking the law in their own hands -- but being alert to strangers and suspicious circumstances.

The officer also noted time and again that community members need to take measures to protect their homes and businesses. Efforts could include burglar alarms, light-motion detectors, good locks and strong doors.

Criminals, he said, take the path of least resistance. "You need to harden yourselves," he said. He noted that using available tools for safety and security must occur because JCSO lacks sufficient resources and cannot field a large number of officers.

"For example," he stated, "there are nine city officers on duty right now in Grants Pass. The sheriff's office has two on duty for the whole county."

Noting the aspect of community involvement, Rarey said that he is "part of a team responsible for the security of the area." He added that, "The community is in charge of its security, not me."

"I am a heavily armed backup good at typing reports," Rarey stated. "I will help you take matters into the criminal justice system: we all have a role."

A newly trained reserve officer might be used in the city; he's pushing for it, he added. He also explained that citizens can use deadly force if they fear for their lives, and when the other person has an instrument that could inflict life-threatening injury.

Rarey said that he sees the current efforts as an experiment in innovation that could become a model for the entire county.

Church News

St. Patrick of the Forest Catholic Church
The Gospel Reading on the Sixth Sunday of Easter will be from John, and the overriding theme, "Love."
Jesus tells his disciples, "This is my commandment: love one another as I love you. No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends ... go and bear fruit that will remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in my name he may give you."
Seventh-day Adventist Church, Cave Junction
"Women of the Lord" was the theme for the Mothers' Day pageant before a standing-room-only crowd Saturday, May 13.
Kathy Morris, wardrobe director, made costumes for the 12 women in the pageant. The video presentation, "Tribute to Mother," by Darlene Varney, brought tears to many.

Those in the pageant, wearing costumes of "Women of the Bible," sang as the closing song, "We Are His Hands To Touch the World Around Us."
Each mother and all Mothers In Israel received a plant and a satin Bible bookmark. The men received a colorful Scripture calendar.
After worship, a special Mothers' Day Sabbath fellowship dinner was enjoyed.

Better Life Television managers Ron & Marta Davis were special guests for the day.
David Weber, a Young Adult member, was welcomed home from his three-month mission to Bolivia, where he helped build an orphanage.
He will show his video presentation and talk about his work in Bolivia during a public program on Saturday, May 27 at 9:30 a.m. Anyone can attend the presentation and a meal that will follow.
