OSP gains Redwood Hwy. Safety Corridor patrol grant

The Oregon State Police agency has been awarded a grant to provide extra enforcement in the Redwood Hwy. Safety Corridor near Grants Pass, one of seven such corridors statewide to be selected by Oregon Dept. of Transportation (ODOT).

Signs mark the corridor.

"Safety Corridors are sections of state highways that ODOT has identified as having a fatal and serious injury crash rate that is at or higher than 110 percent of the three-year statewide average for a similar type roadway," said Anne Holder, ODOT Safety Division Statewide Roadway Safety Program manager.

Last year, OSP received grant funding to work 273 overtime hours in the Redwood Hwy. (199) Safety Corridor. During March '96, ODOT designated the approximately 7-mile stretch of highway south of Grants Pass as a Safety Corridor due to higher-than-average crash problems.

"This area is especially dangerous due to the large number of driveways and cross streets, which creates a high number of vehicles entering and exiting the highway," said OSP Sgt. Jeff Fitzgerald.

"This danger is heightened by the traffic on this highway, which is increasing as the population grows. Redwood Hwy. has been considered one of the 10 most dangerous in Oregon. Speed limits have been reduced to reduce the danger, but the high number of offending drivers continues.

"We are hoping that an increased presence will prevent drivers from taking unnecessary risks."

During 2005 alone, OSP responded to approximately 102 motor vehicle crashes on Redwood Hwy. and arrested 72 people on charges of driving under the influence of an intoxicant. Many of these crashes involved injuries -- and three involved fatalities.

New legislation has established increased fines for speeders traveling more than 30 mph on roadways. Fines are also increased for violations committed within a Safety Corridor.

The selected safety corridors received an average of $17,000 to help law enforcement agencies pay overtime for dedicated traffic enforcement.

"These are sections of highways and roads where drivers need to pay extra attention, slow down, allow more stopping distance from the other vehicles, and turn on their headlights to make themselves more visible to other drivers," Holder said.

Assault, theft, robbery charges levied against four GP residents

Four city of Grants Pass men were arrested in connection with a report by two other men that they were assaulted, menaced and robbed.

Grants Pass Dept. of Public Safety (GPDPS) added that the incident occurred at 1:58 a.m. on Sunday, March 4, at 1640 Redwood Ave.

Suspects are identified as Richard A. Paz, 23; Michael T. Howard, 26; and Joel N. Paz and James R. Farenga Jr., both 24. Victims were identified as Anthony Ehens, 25; and Thomas Ehens, 21.

All four suspects were charged with first-degree robbery, third-degree assault, and second-degree theft. Additionally, Joel Paz and Farenga each were charged with menacing.

GPDPS officers went to the residence of the suspects, "who refused to come to the door." Officers surrounded the dwelling, and after several hours were able to enter and arrest Howard, who was hiding. The other three emerged voluntarily.

Officers found a handgun, knife and other evidence related to the robbery, said GPDPS.

Heavily built man robs bank

A Grants Pass bank was the target of a stickup Monday, Feb. 26, and the suspect also may have robbed a bank in Aloha, Ore. in January, reported detectives with Grants Pass Dept. of Public Safety (GPDPS).

The U.S. Bank counter inside Albertson's Beacon Drive store was hit just before 3 p.m. The robber gave the teller a demand note, detectives said, but no weapon was displayed.

The suspect fled with an undisclosed amount of cash to a waiting red sedan.

He's described as a clean-shaven, heavily built, white man, between 5-8 and 5-10, aged 50 to 60.

GPDPS said that the robber was wearing a felt Fedora hat, glasses, dark zippered jacket with a white emblem on the left chest, and dark trousers.

Detectives suspect that the man may be transient, but ask anyone with information about him to contact Det. Dave Daniel of GPDPS at 474-6370.

Richardson unveils bill aimed at on-schedule school funds

Legislation that would require lawmakers to pass a budget for Oregon schools within the first 81 days of the legislative session has been announced by Rep. Dennis Richardson (R-Central Point).

"House Joint Resolution 21 eliminates the politics of delay," Richardson said. "Passing an education budget within 81 days gives school districts the opportunity to determine their funding before the fiscal year begins."

HJR 21 would amend the Constitution to require the Legislative Assembly to pass a budget funding the primary educational system within the first two and a half months of session. If a budget for kindergarten through grade 12 is not passed within the first 81 days, legislators would forfeit their per diem and salaries until the education budget is passed.

Despite past efforts to fund schools first, education budgets in the 2003 and 2005 sessions were passed in August, far too late to allow for effective school district funding decisions, Richardson indicated.
