Police Blotter

(Editor's Note I: Factual information for 'Blotter' is provided by official law enforcement agencies. All persons listed are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Charges can be amended or dismissed.)

* * *

Tuesday, May 8

*An irate father wanted to prosecute the 20-something man who gave rum to his 17-yar-old daughter in Jubilee Park, resulting, he said, in her being in intensive care at Three Rivers Community Hospital in Grants Pass.

Thursday, May 10

*Cash, ID and letters were said to be in a black bag that fell from a man's walker in Downtown Cave Junction.

*At Lake Selmac a woman reported that a man she said "Hi" to near an outhouse replied that he "was in Vietnam and I need to shoot you in the head."

*Deputies tried to investigate a reported beating of one man by another in the 300 block of Caves Avenue. The suspect was thought to be possibly intoxicated.

*There was a report that a man in O'Brien had lost approximately $50,000 because of an unscrupulous care-taker in another part of the state.

*Disorderly conduct was noted at a Cave Junction bar in connection with a man who entered it with his child, 3, apparently to see his wife there.

*Yelling and screaming by several people were reported in Downtown O'Brien shortly before 10 p.m.

*A man in Cave Junction said that his vehicle hood, valued at $250, was stolen.

(Editor's Note II: The "Noose" is working with Sheriff Gil Gilbertson to ensure that we receive the dispatch patrol logs to bring you the Police Blotter you enjoy so much.)

Advertise?

A man awakens in the morning after sleeping on an advertised bed with advertised sheets, and he's wearing advertised pajamas

He bathes in an advertised shower or tub, washes with advertised soap, and shaves with an advertised razor. He eats a breakfast of food, juice and coffee -- all of it advertised. He uses an advertised toaster, an advertised microwave oven, and an advertised coffee-maker.

The man puts on advertised clothing, and checks his advertised watch. He then drives to work in an advertised motor vehicle; sits at an advertised desk using an advertised PC; and makes notes with an advertised pen on advertised paper.

Yet this man hesitates to advertise. He says that advertising doesn't pay.

Finally, when his unadvertised business goes under, he will advertise it for sale.

THOUGHTLESS DUCK VANDAL - Selma residents Bruce & Bonnie Perry discovered a male Mallard duck at Lake Selmac on Monday, May 7, that had been shot through its head with a blowgun dart. Bruce returned several days later, and found that the duck was still alive and acting normally. 'He was still running around pretty good and doing well,' said Bruce. The incident was reported to the Oregon Dept. of Fish & Wildlife, and the Josephine County Parks Dept. Anyone with information about the incident is urged to phone the county parks office at 474-5285. In the top photo it appears that two of the Mallard's buddies are monitoring him carefully, perhaps making derogatory comments about paddling around with a dart in his head. And some attempted humorists have said that if the duck had a concealed weapons permit, the insult of the dart in his head could have been avoided.

Bikeway unit has opening

Applications to fill one vacancy on the Josephine County Bikeway Committee are being accepted until Friday, May 25 by the county board of commissioners.

The committee consists of 10 members. Five must live within the city of Grants Pass and five within other parts of the county.

Meetings generally are held on first Tuesdays in Grants Pass City Hall at noon.

The committee works to implement the "Non-Motorized" chapter of the Master Transportation Plan by seeking input from the community. Members also coordinate and disseminate information for public information about biking and walking routes and rules and serves as a resource and advisory group regarding bike and pedestrian trails for the city and county.

Applications are available in Room 154 at the county courthouse in Grants Pass or online at www.co.josephine.or.us on the board of commissioners Webpage.

For more information, phone 474-5221.

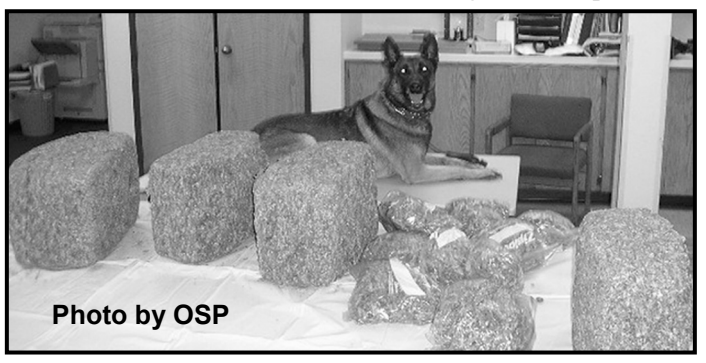
Trooper, drug dog net much marijuana

An Oregon State Police trooper, with assistance from his drug detection dog, seized approximately 171 pounds of marijuana Tuesday afternoon, May 8 during a traffic stop on Interstate 84 near Pendleton.

The haul is worth approximately $400,000 to $500,000, OSP said.



In another incident, on Thursday, May 10 a trooper and his dog (above) seized 93 pounds of pot in Chemult

The lone occupant of the car, Ramon Giron Pimental, 50, from Toppenish, Wash., was lodged in Umatilla County Jail on the following charges:

Unlawful possession of marijuana, unlawful delivery of marijuana, unlawful possession of a controlled substance/cocaine, giving false information to a police officer, and possession of a forged instrument (a Washington state driver license).

An OSP trooper stopped a 2005 Chevrolet Impala with Nevada license plates westbound on Interstate 84 near milepost 205 for following too close and unlawful lane change. During the contact, the trooper's drug detection dog alerted on the car, and a subsequent search led to the discovery of approximately 171 pounds of marijuana in the trunk. The illegal weed was in 12 individual heavily wrapped bales.

The driver showed a false Washington driver license, OSP said. While searching the suspect, the trooper also found a small amount of cocaine in the man's pants pocket.

Following a search of the Automated Fingerprint Identification System based on the suspect's fingerprints, he was positively identified. OSP Drug Enforcement Section detectives are continuing the investigation.

Previous notable marijuana seizures during traffic stops by OSP troopers include:

*Approximately 323 pounds of marijuana seized April 4, 2005 on Interstate 5 in the Salem area.

*Approximately 200 pounds of marijuana seized June 4, 2006 on I-5 north of Medford.

*Approximately 63 pounds of marijuana seized June 29, 2005 on I-84 west of Hood River.
