A memorial service for Selma resident William James "Jim" Dobie, 62, who died Sunday, May 27, 2007, will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 9 at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Chapel in Cave Junction.

Bishop Charles Rigby will officiate.

Mr. Dobie died at Three Rivers Community Hospital in Grants Pass. Private interment will be at Deer Creek Cemetery in Selma.

He was born to William & Belle Pratt Dobie on April 9, 1945 in Oakridge, Ore. Not long after his birth, the family moved to Grants Pass, where he lived for two years before the family relocated to Selma. He attended Selma Elementary School, Kerby Junior High School, and Illinois Valley

High School.

Mr. Dobie served in the U.S. Navy for four years. He was stationed aboard the USS "Princeton," a helicopter carrier. He worked 10 years as a mechanic, including three years with Boeing Aircraft Co. Later, he drove log and rock trucks for 28 years.

He was a 50-year member of The LDS Church Cave Junction Ward. His hobbies included fishing, hunting, gardening, and watching birds at his feeders.

He is survived by his mother, Belle Dobie, of Selma; and two brothers, Gary Dobie, of Selma, and Brian Dobie, of West Valley City, Utah.

Autopsy due for Selma man found in water

Josephine County Search And Rescue (SAR) found Selma resident Peter Brian Thompson, 57, dead in Clear Creek on Sunday, June 3, said the county sheriff's office.

Friends reported Thompson missing Sunday at approximately 2:38 a.m. after he had not been seen since Friday evening, June 1, said Sheriff Gil Gilbertson.

SAR was mobilized shortly before noon Sunday. Personnel were told that Thompson had last been seen near Clear Creek. He was found in the creek at 1:57 p.m., and indications are that he might have drowned.

An autopsy is scheduled.

For the observance of Most Holy Body & Blood of Christ Sunday, June 10, the story of loaves and fishes will be recalled.

Jesus spoke to a crowd of 5,000 about the Kingdom of God and healed many. All needed to be fed and there were only five loaves and two fish. Jesus blessed them, and the disciples set the food before the crowd. When the leftovers were picked up, they filled 12 wicker baskets.

Project Oregon is sweeping the waves on Channel 48 coming from Eight Dollar Mountain as Better Life Television in Southwestern Oregon reaches into five counties.

More than $1.5 million has been raised to purchase a Christian TV station in Roseburg, with a low-power one in Eugene. This new station will broadcast KBLN (a 3ABN affiliate since 1990) on all cable systems, DirecTV and Dish Network 24/7 throughout Benton, Coos, Douglas, and Lane counties.

We praise God for the outpouring of His blessings as funds continue to arrive for this new Christian station that will reach more than 500,000 people with the message of God's saving power and love.

On Saturday, May 26, Pastor Verne Hyland gave Part 2 of his message, "Twenty-four Hours With Christ." The Mark 4:36-40 Scripture text brought us into the heart of the message as the pastor vividly portrayed the Savior sleeping quietly in a boat as the disciples tried to stay afloat during a violent storm on the Sea of Galilee. Power Point colorful scenes on a large screen were shown during the presentation.

Pastor and Mrs. Hyland visited the Holy Land and stood by the Sea of Galilee observing fisherman mending their nets following the customs of their forefathers.

The climatic story was of a jet flying over the Atlantic Ocean with fearful passengers as a violent storm tried to suck the large plane into the sea. The severe storm brought the plane close to destruction. But a missionary aboard noticed a calm little girl sitting alone reading, ignoring the screams and shouts of the frightened passengers.

After the plane made an emergency landing, the missionary asked the girl why she wasn't acting like the rest of the passengers. She said, "My Daddy is the pilot, and he is taking me home."

Pastor Hyland said that we need to trust the loving Lord, as He is caring for us in all the storms of life, and He is also going to take us Home, our Heavenly Home. Following the service, another delicious fellowship lunch was enjoyed by everyone.

Madrone Adventist School is taking applications for kindergarten. Phone 592-3330 or visit the school at 4300 Holland Loop. Amy Whitchurch is the head teacher. Kimberly Bowlby will teach kindergarten. A newly remodeled room will be used for the class.
