

RCC small biz aide hired

Rob Hambleton has been chosen as Josephine County Small Business Management (SBM) instructor, announced the Rogue Community College Small Business Development Center (SBDC).

Hambleton has approximately 24 years of business management and training experience. He earned an MBA from the University of Utah at Salt Lake City. He has been active in the Grants Pass community for a number of years.

Linda Ballasy will remain as the SBM instructor for Jackson County.

SBM training is a unique nine-month course designed to help business owners increase profitability and reach their goals through improved business management and operation. The training, which includes monthly classes and individual counseling, has a “working-on-your-business” approach to ownership success. It is open to for-profit business owners who have been in business at least one year, are willing to accept and try new ideas and can dedicate time to improve their business.

Tuition is $599, payable by term for three terms. Business owners who enroll and pay in advance for the entire nine months by Sept. 30 will receive a $74 discount.

For more information, phone Hambleton at 956-7495 or Ballasy in Jackson County at 245-7617. Enrollment is limited.

Seventh-day Adventist Church, Cave Junction
By Patty Hyland

Sorry for the long absence. We have been in Seattle trying to help our son find an apartment. He is still in the military, but will be in residency in preventive medicine and occupational medicine at the University of Washington.

He is a physician and has been the military director and commander of a large clinic in Germany for several years. He is happy for the change of pace.

The SDA Church is conducting a two-week Vacation Bible School with the theme, Superstars for Jesus. All children between the ages of 5 to 12 can attend. There will be lovely crafts to make, songs to sing, recreation with ball games each day, and colorful Bible lessons. The program is running through Saturday, Aug. 16.

master, Miguel Vasquez. Those who enjoy playing the recorder can come by the church at 5 p.m. and join the fun.

Tuesdays at 7 p.m. there is a Prayer and Praise Meeting in the church fellowship hall. Anyone can attend. Amazing Facts Bible Study Guides are used with great interest.

The Madrone Seventh-day Adventist School is accepting applications from new and returning students. Phone 592-3330 for more information on registration. The school is located on beautiful wooded acreage at 4300 Holland Loop in Cave Junction. The teachers are highly qualified and state-certified.

Pastor Verne Hyland and I gave an up-to-date view of the Spiritual Highlights of three different church camp meetings that we were able to attend recently. The Better Life Television Network sponsored a camp meeting at Milo Academy in Days Creek, Ore. It was an exciting experience for young and old, as there were meetings for every age group.

Ken Cox Ministries from California provided the keynote speakers and musicians. His Song, a musical group of health educators from Southwestern Oregon, sang at most of the meetings.

The dormitories were filled, and most RV and tent spots were taken as the lovely campus filled up for a fantastic June weekend.

Why would a majestic bull elk make friends with a man?
And why would it happen while the man, an "elk hunter," was writing a book about elk hunting? This amazing true story has been covered by CNN News, Idaho Public Television, and written about on the front page of the Wall Street Journal.
For nearly a decade Larry Wayne Jones (Garden Valley, Idaho) has traveled & entertained over a thousand audiences nationwide. The complete story is told in three video movies, two dozen songs, & a one-of-a-kind book.
