

Arts & Entertainment

The 27th annual Wild Blackberry Arts & Crafts Festival was held in Downtown Cave Junction and Jubilee Park on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 9 and 10. Blackberry goodies, bingo, live music, children's activities and other attractions were featured. Mark Russo, who coordinated the event with his wife, Judy, said that it was a good festival, but that lower attendance than usual was disappointing. The nonprofit programs in the park were quite successful, and the organizations including I.V. Family Coalition plan to be involved again next year, he said. Russo noted that 40 percent of vendors who signed up did not attend. There will be a 28th annual festival using a similar format, Russo said. Views of the Jubilee Park events will be in next week's issue. (Photos by Ali Madjidi for Illinois Valley News)

Siskiyou Project

Cool mountain air and spectacular views will be highlights of a leisurely 4-mile loop hike to Mt. Elijah and Bigelow Lakes Saturday, Aug. 23.

Siskiyou Project ecologist Rich Nawa will lead hikers through flower-filled meadows on the way to visit a population of the rare California Globe Mallow (Iliamna latibracteata) and learn about conservation efforts to save the plant. Hikers also will have an opportunity to see some of the area that will be included in the proposed expansion to the Oregon Caves National Monument.

It will be an all-day moderate hike, with 900-foot elevation gain. A car pool will leave Illinois Valley Visitor Center in Cave Junction) 9 a.m. Hikers are advised to bring lunch, snacks and plenty of water.
