Animal shelter looking for owners

The Josephine County Animal Shelter is reportedly beyond maximum capacity and growing each day. According to a news release, more than 60 dogs and cats of all ages and sizes are living at the shelter, with the recent addition of 13 horses that are up for adoption at no cost. "If you are looking or know of someone looking for a new friend to take home, please send them towards the Josephine County Animal Shelter," the news release read. "These horses have to be off the foster property by the end of the month." Photos of the animals can be found on the shelter's Facebookpageandonthecounty Animal Protection website at www.co.josephine.or.us. Residents can find out more by calling the animal control shelter at 541-474-5458. The news release said that the shelter is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday to Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays by appointment.

IV Lions club celebrates 63 years

Submitted by Steve Lyons
District Governor Vicky Smith and her husband Richard, a past District Governor, visited the Illinois Valley Lions during the Tuesday, Feb. 8 meeting. The Smiths and members dined on prime rib, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed peas and rolls. A birthday cake congratulating the club on 63 years of service to the community followed. Dinner was prepared by lion Don Moore and his wife Luz. The District governor received a certificate of appreciation from previous Cave Junction Mayor Moore and current Mayor Carl Jacobson Jr. She also received I.V. Lions club pins from President Mark Camp. New Illinois Valley News owner wore a tie that was promptly cut off and hung on the wall. Jokes were told and a good time was had by all. Following the meeting, photos were taken of board members and the estimated 1100 pounds of food collected in the Friday, Feb. 4 food drive at Shop Smart. The club truly appreciates the generosity of the community and Shop Smart.

Pancakes for parks

The pancake breakfast fundraiser to improve Jubilee Park went far above all expectations Saturday, Feb. 12, with more than 250 people served. Several members of the Illinois Valley class of the Ford Leadership Development Institute, the Ford Family Foundation and others chipped in starting at 8 a.m. to serve pancakes, eggs, sausage and other breakfast food to help raise funds for phase one of the playground improvement project. The String Bean Band performed while people ate breakfast, and two of Suzanne Hamilton's younger tap dance classes stole the show.

Valley resident Ann Padgett said enough people showed up that breakfast organizers had to buy more eggs and sausage. Illinois Valley High School students could also be seen bringing food to tables Saturday. Ford Leadership Institute members said during the Cave Junction city council meeting Feb. 14 that fundraising goals for the first stage of the Jubilee Park upgrades are close to being met. After installing play equipment for two- to five-year-olds, those involved with the park project hope to also install separate equipment for older children up to age 12.

A Stormy llama correction

The Feb. 9 edition of Illinois Valley News incorrectly wrote that a llama taken in from the 800 Airport Drive residence at Forest Edge

Farm birthed a baby llama. The mother was not from the Airport Drive residence, but had been living at Forest Edge Farm. The Illinois Valley

News regrets the error. Harry Abrams did report last week that the newborn llama has been named "Storm."
