IV Little League closes season

By Jenna Larkin

On Saturday June 22, IV Little League closed out another great baseball season. The festivities included a closing ceremony acknowledging board members, coaches, parent volunteers and the kids who played this season. There was also a barbecue and a family sandlot game that followed.

Shelly Davis, the league president, said there were approximately 130 children who participated this year, making it one of the biggest seasons in years. This year's league season included four T-ball teams, two coach-pitch teams, two minor teams, one 50/70 intermediate team, one major and senior girl softball teams and one senior boys team; with a total of twelve teams.

Davis said that with the continuous return of children each season, the league will continue to grow and provide not only the skills to play baseball and softball but also provide life lessons such as problem solving, how to work with others and within groups and lifelong friendships.

Davis also went on to say that this was one of the better years for parent volunteers.

"More parents were willing to volunteer; whether it was helping in the concession stand or helping on the field. IV Little League is always looking for more volunteers. We have activities going on year-round and could always use more help."

The league also did several fund-raisers to help provide funding for new equipment and field maintenance. The fund-raisers included a bake sale, selling first aid kits, Carl's Jr. coupon books, six-month calendars with past players featured in each month, and the sandlot game mentioned above. There still are some coupon books and calendars available for purchase. If interested, stop by the concession stand Tuesday and Thursday evenings starting July 16.

This year's IV Little League sponsors included: Masonic Belt

Lodge, IV Lions Club, IV Senior Center, Dutch Brothers, Crossroads Animal Hospital, Dr. Joe's Pet Hospital, Northwest Hair Lines and Wildriver Brewing & Pizza Company.

Without the generous business' help, the purchase of uniforms would not be possible.

The local Little League is also proud of those youngsters going to All Stars this year. They include the 50/70 intermediate team who will be joined by three players from the Rogue River 50/70 intermediate team and four, possibly five, players from the senior boys' team will be joining the Rogue River Senior boys' All Star team. Games will start Saturday, June 29 in Gold Hill.

I.V. Little League would like to invite the community to attend The Blackberry Festival coming up August 3-4. Anyone interested in participating in the festival should contact Shelly Davis at 541-415-1718 for further information.
