

Among collaborative scholarship fund-raisers, a silent auction took place Sunday during the annual membership meeting for the non-profit. Gift baskets for the auction were donated by each of nine participating classes, as well as goods and services by individuals and Valley businesses. The estate of Arnold Mellow (1954) donated his extensive collection of cougar art, including statues and paintings.

Reunion years ending in a 3 or an 8 were celebrated, including the classes of 1953, '58, '63, '73, '78, '83, '88 and '93. A special treat was awarded attending members of Kerby Union High Class of 1948; free breakfast at the Jubilee Park Pavilion on Sunday morning, courtesy of the association board. A full breakfast was prepared and enjoyed by over 250 pancake fans as a fundraiser for the I.V. Fire Department with 10 percent of proceeds going toward the scholarship fund.

Fireworks sales and the annual association-sponsored golf tournament benefits JVHS students who participate in Cougar football. Taylor's Sausage (Business Member #13) donated lunch for the 9-hole scramble. Terry Taylor reported a good turnout for the event, which raised at least $800 toward the $3,000 needed for uniforms and registration fees. Coach Ray Yarbrough oversees the annual fireworks sales in the Shop Smart parking lot. Those wishing to donate toward team expenses are encouraged to contact Yarbrough at 541-787-0191.

Association directors and sisters Suzie Culver and Adrianna Kymala organized a raffle with an $800 value first-place prize including a bistro dining set, tickets to the Britt Festival and backyard cook-out gear, won by Karen and Jeff Stiles. A second prize included dinner and a night's lodging at the Chateau on the Oregon Caves plus tickets to Great Cats World Park, awarded to Chris Culver; and an "O'Brien Package" of dinner at McGrew's and 2 nights of tepee lodging plus two zip line courses at Out 'n About Treesort was awarded to Tom Birkner. Association director Val "Dink" Cameron sold over $700 of the $1,244 total ticket sales.

College scholarship winners included 2013 Valedictorian Natalie Wellen, who garnered both a $3,000 academic scholarship and the $500 SOFCU Roni Rausch Broeffle Community Service Award. A second $3,000 academic scholarship went to Jazmine Hancock and the $3,000 Bill Broeffle Vocational Scholarship went to Krysten Siver.

A final fund-raiser event Sunday afternoon was an ice cream social at Kerbyville Museum. Museum president and association Honorary Lifetime Member Dennis Strayer has been a staunch supporter of the annual festivities, and the museum donates the use of office space to the endeavor. A portion of ice cream sales also went toward scholarships.

Association president and Cave Junction City Recorder Ryan Nolan summed up the weekend succinctly. "With the help of fellow alumni, we were able to award $9,500 to IVHS graduates to help them better their lives; and we helped nearly a 1,000 alumni have a great time reconnecting with old friends."

Additional directors overseeing this year's festivities included Sara Jones, vice president, Donna Tellyer, recording secretary, JoAnna Gavlik, Pat Dees, Carol Dickson, Sherri Lamb, Lynn Smith and Janie Pope.

Association membership applications or donation forms for individuals and businesses are available at www.ivhsalumniandfriends.org.

Then stroll just one block further north to Soul Shine Studio to participate in a coloring contest between 5 and 7:30 p.m. Two prizes will be awarded: a grab-bag of goodies for youth or a tattoo credit for adults. Also, guess the number of beans in a jar to win a Soul-Shine T-Shirt. Featured artist for the month is aviator Clay Clark.

The Eye Care Group on Caves Highway will display the exuberant paintings of Kevin Gillette II during regular business hours in July.

Second Friday ArtWalk is slated for May through August this year and the upcoming event will take place July 12 from 5 to 8 p.m. The event is sponsored by Illinois River Valley Arts Council, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization, with support from Jefferson State Financial Group.
