Visiting Challengers crush Cougars

Michelle Binker

IVN Contributing Writer

The Illinois Valley Cougars fell 62-0 to the Cascade Christian Challengers Friday, Oct. 21 in Cave Junction. With the loss, the Cougars' overall record stands at 1-6; 0-2 in Southern Cascade League play.

The Challengers scored early, posting 21 points in the first quarter. Subdued, the Cougars allowed the Challengers to score another 34 points before the end of the first half.

"It was pretty apparent that we didn't play with our hearts and guts [in the second quarter]," Illinois Valley head coach Bruce Reece said afterward.

Illinois Valley's ground game met solid resistance from Cascade's defense, producing negative overall yardage. The Cougars' passing game fared little better, with quarterback Ross

Gaynor completing eight of 21 attempted passes for 57 total yards and two interceptions.

"We couldn't run," Reece said. "Their defense was very stout up the middle." Frustration mounted as the score grew, and the Cougars made some costly mistakes.

At the half, Reece said, the coaches told the team it was time to take the next step, to overcome and demonstrate their character.

"Winning is always out there, but you have to put everything else together, too," Reece said. "This is about you taking your next step in life. I felt like they did that."

"It's just one of those deals where I felt like they kinda came together in the second half. Our guys played with heart."

The Cougars will play their final regular-season game against Southern Cascade League opponent St. Mary's Crusaders at Speigelberg Stadium in Medford Saturday, Oct. 29 beginning at 7 p.m.
