PARKS . . .

And when heads were put together about Jubilee Park, located in Downtown Cave Junction, the ideas seemed to be endless, but included a water spray area, an enclosed dog run, a second baseball field, basketball courts, exercise stations, a walking path, more trees on the western side, a climbing wall, volleyball, rebuilding the bandstand, and a yoga/tai chi area. The issues of concern that came up about Jubilee Park were the transients hanging around and unlawful, loud usage of the park at night.

If you missed the meeting and still want to participate in the Park Plan you will be able to complete an online survey in April and the Park Plan committee will be doing outreach at the annual Easter Egg Hunt held at Jubilee Park. You can get more information about the Park and Recreation Plan by visiting www.highway199.org or calling 541-592-4316. The project manager for the Community Service Center is Kyle Collins at 478-414-6839 or kcollins@uoregon.edu and the website is csc.uoregon.edu.
