COSTUMES ENCOURAGED BECAUSE... WHY NOT?

Winner, Winner Chicken Dinner!

Along with clear skies and beautiful weather, the 2018 I.V. Lions Labor Day Festival was a huge success!

“The festival had great attendance this year,” said Steve Lyons I.V. Lion member.

As usual, there was a big sigh after the winning raffle ticket for Harley Davidson was announced. Shawn Taff of Coos Bay was the big winner of the 2017 Harley Davidson Deluxe motorcycle. Taff said he was surprised when he got the call, “I didn’t expect to win I was more interested in donating to the cause.” Taff reported that he only bought one raffle ticket at the Josephine County Fair in August.

And when it came to the Labor Day Parade, Marty Haynie, the parade chairman announced, “Good, turnout, very pleased with the crowd. Everything went very smooth.”

The parade winners were announced by Jim Frick, annual parade commentator, as follows: Best Overall Parade winner was Rough and Ready Lumber organized by Y Knot Log. The following organizations received first place medals for their divisions –I.V. High School Cougars for sports/athletics; O’Brien Tractor Restoration for the tractor division; The Valley of Sound Music & Production Co. for music, 1934 Rat Rod international pickup for antique autos; the 1952 Chevy station wagon and 1958 Chevy Belair tied for first place in the classic auto division; Tony Paulson for C.J. Mayor for political; PAPA’s Sporting Good and more for commercial; Healing Hearts & Hooves for club/organization; Community Bible Church for religious; and Hog Farm for motorcycles.

Tuff Truck winners:

First place went to Tim Manchester driving an 84 Ford Ranger with a 27.210 speed; second, Jon Pope, 85 Ford Ranger; third, Travis, 87 Ford Ranger; fourth, Kelsey Box, 90 Ford; and fifth, was CJ Oyler, 85 Ford Ranger.

Talent Show winners: In the junior division Saturday, Sept. 1, Finn, age 11 won first place for singing “The Doughnut Song” in Acapella, Marius second and Aleigla third; in the intermediate division, Sunday, Sept. 2, Lily placed first, Devin second and Julia third (adult division was unavailable at press time) and the Pro division winner was Dawna Crocker.

Softball tournament champions: First place was Friends & Family from Crescent City ; American Heroes from Medford placed second; and R.I.P. from the I.V. placed third.

Cornhole champions: Travis Bruner and Jared Hook.

We want to welcome Kristi Ibarra, FNP

Kristi Ibarra, FNP is our newest Family Nurse Practitioner to join our Cave Junction medical clinic. Prior to becoming a nurse practitioner, she worked as a nurse in a children’s emergency room where she developed a passion for taking care of children, giving that personal touch with all her patients. In her spare time she enjoys traveling and camping.

Kristi Ibarra, FNP is now accepting new pediatric patients. Bring in your child and experience what compassionate health care is all about.

Showing Up

What Does it Mean to Belong to Community?

Saturday
September 8
3 – 5 pm
at the Guild Gallery
in Kerby

FREE

Being a part of a community is an essential need for all of us. It is a place where we find others who share common ground, where our values and identities are reflected.

Come explore with others how your community can show up for you—and you for your community.

What drives us apart? What holds us together?

An Oregon Humanities Community Conversation facilitated by Chai Mei Tam, an intersex, genderqueer, Chinese American immigrant who grew up in a working-class immigrant family in Oakland, CA. Their life's journey has led them to both the for-profit and nonprofit worlds, and they have both business enterprise and progressive activism experience. They are the founder of EarthRoots, a forty-acre land space for QTPOC to do individual and collective healing and wellness work in Myrtle Creek, OR.
