When creating a home escape plan, here are some important ideas to remember:

- Identify at least two ways out of each room. They can include doors and windows. If there are non-releasable security bars on bedroom windows, they should either be removed or replaced with releasable type bars.
- Draw your home escape plan showing each room of the home and directional arrows indicating how to escape from each room.
- Determine a meeting place outside the home where all occupants will gather once they have escaped.
- Make sure there is at least one working smoke detector on every floor of your home.
- Practice your home escape plan periodically so that everyone in your home is familiar with it.
