

DALE FLOWERS

We have been treated to Dale Flowers' wit and artistry since the beginning of the Millennium. He draws a batch of cartoons and bestows them upon the NCTE, each time enough to fill a page. He is an Astoria High School teacher (subjects such as global studies, sociology, psychology and economics) and a keen satirist as a writer in addition to the barbs of his art. Since this issue is the 27th anniversary of the Born Again Bird's resurrection from a three year crypt, why not commemorate it with a modest retrospective from bouquets of Flowers? -MPMc
