Totals	632	608

The Central Labor Council, Astoria; Federated Trades Council, Portland; Fishermen, Astoria, and the Garment Workers, Portland, voted unanimously for the changes, but did not give the number of votes cast.

A union in Troutdale voted unanimously for the changes, but failed to make known what union it was. This is also the case with a union in Oregon City, with the exception that it voted 20 for and 38 against the first proposition, and 50 for and 8 against the second proposition.

The returns, therefore, give an overwhelming majority of the votes cast in favor of the changes.

STRONG TALK.

Legislators Are Lambated by Rabbi Hirsch on Child Labor.

Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, the eminent Jewish rabbi, handed a few warm packages to a lot of glass manufacturers who were lobbying before the state legislature of Springfield, Ill., this winter, to have the child labor law amended so that children may be kept at work nights in factories, etc. Dr. Hirsch spoke as follows:

"The same men who opposed the passage of the child labor law are at work now, after two years' trial, to have it repealed or amended to make it worthless.

"Let me tell you, legislators, that you must not tinker with the child labor law. It is capable of improvement, but such is not the purpose of the amendment to permit children to work nights, as the glass factories want.

"If child labor is necessary the sooner our social system is dynamited into chaos the better.

"If child labor is necessary our religion has been a sham.

"Justice is lacking from a civilization that requires child labor. Religion is lacking from it. A social system that can bring such a condition about has forfeited every further consideration.

"Aside from the ethical, we may repeat that the child of today is the man of tomorrow. Stunted in their childhood, how can we expect them to be strong men, able to do the world's work? A man in a stunted body cannot be a good man. There is much talk about free will, but a man with a crippled body cannot will to do good.

"When men grow up with crippled bodies their souls are crippled likewise. Does the employer pay for this draft on the future? No. Because it is unjust it ought to be stopped. These stunted children of today must do the work of the world tomorrow, and become the fathers of the next generation.

"You employers may buy the child's time, but you have no right to take his future.

"Children waste materials, waste time, and, if careful calculations were made, it would be found that their labor is not economical. Of all expensive luxuries, the most expensive and the most cruel is child labor.

"The bitterness of the workingman exists not because you have a few more dollars than he; not because you drink champagne while he must be content with unboiled water; not because you ride in an automobile while he hangs on a strap in a dirty street car—but because he sees that his children have to work while yours go to school."

OTTO J. KRAEMER FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGE.

Otto J. Kraemer, the able young attorney, is so far, away ahead in the lead for the republican nomination for Municipal Judge. Mr. Kraemer has an excellent record, and no finer tribute could be paid to his ability and honesty than the petition of the local bar asking him to become a candidate. The following indorsement by men who know what qualifications a police judge should possess, show the high esteem in which Mr. Kraemer is held by all regardless of party affiliation:

To Otto J. Kraemer:
We, the undersigned, attorneys of the City of Portland, believing that while Justice of the Peace for Portland District your services were able, honest and conscientious, do hereby petition you to become a candidate for Municipal Judge, believing that, if elected, you would conduct the office without fear or favor.

If I am nominated and elected I will during my term of office be Mayor. The Mayor has power to secure honesty and efficiency from city officers and employees; he may protect the city in its contracts and can compel a "square deal" between the public service corporations and the people. The impartial use of these powers I pledge and a police administration that will improve the moral tone of Portland and give hospitable protection to our guests to the Fair and I pledge an economical management of municipal affairs and a non-factional executive board worthy to represent our large business and labor interests.
