PROPER ADJUSTMENT OF GAS APPLIANCES

THE efficiency and economy of Gas Stoves, Gas Water Heaters and all other Gas Appliances depends, in a great measure, upon being properly adjusted. The Portland Gas Company has recently inaugurated a system of making a house to house canvas of the entire city, in the interest of adjusting gas appliances, whether purchased from us or not.

Gas to-day is recognized as the ideal fuel, and, with proper adjustment of whatever appliances may be in use, insures the consumer of the very best results obtainable.

No charge will be made for these inspections or for the labor performed in adjusting appliances, and any inattention or discourteous treatment, on the part of any of our inspectors, should be reported at once to the Gas Company's office.

Our inspectors are known by the Company's badge, and if in doubt whether the inspector is a duly authorized representative of the Company, ask to see the badge.

UNIONISTS NOT ANARCHISTS.

By the Rev. Charles Stelzle.

Possibly my experience with trades unionism has been peculiar, but I hardly think that that is so. My impression is that I have seen and heard the worst as well as the best in trades unionism. There is much in the movement that needs to be remedied. But no organization made up of flesh and blood is perfect.

Because of the very practical experience that I have had with the men in the ranks as well as with the leaders of organized labor, I have come to have little patience with the cry of "Anarchism," in some quarters when the question of trades unionism is being discussed.

To judge a movement by isolated cases, as these opponents are doing, is rank injustice. It is an indication that their judgment as to the value of things is hardly to be trusted. They have failed to give matters their proportionate value.

But if their argument is to be considered, then others may also employ it. Numerous are the illustrations that might be cited which prove that trades unionism is not anarchistic, but only one or two may here be given.

Questions were being fired at me in a meeting of a machinists' local, when one brother asked: "Don't you think that we ought to use the weapons of the bosses—the gatling gun and the rifle?" Cries of "Anarchist!" "Shut up!" from men all over the hall effectually silenced the questioner. He stood absolutely alone, and I half suspect that he asked the question simply for the sake of getting up an argument.

It had been reported that a high official in our country had favorably received a delegation from an organization which opposed legislation favorable to workingmen. While the matter was being discussed at a meeting of a Western Central Labor Union, a delegate arose and remarked, "We ought to treat that official just as some of the Russian officials have been recently treated." In other words, the delegate implied that dynamite was the dose that should have been served him because of his apparent discrimination against workingmen. Instantly, there came hisses from all parts of the room. Charges were preferred against him. The offender was given a formal trial and was unanimously expelled because of the anarchistic speech which he had made.

While it is true that here and there one finds a man in the labor movement who, under peculiar circumstances, will give expression to a declaration which may be anarchistic, it must not be forgotten that the tendency of trades unionism is for the enforcement of law and order.

Vote the People's Statement One legislative ticket from Adams to Wanner.

THE STATE PRINTER.

Mr. J. R. Whitney, who is seeking re-nomination for the office of state printer at the hands of the Republican voters of the State of Oregon, is following a precedent which has prevailed for many years, viz: that when one has performed his duties acceptably and creditably he is invariably given a second term.

Mr. Whitney has certainly performed the duties of his office in a careful, conscientious, and business-like manner, employing only union printers, and paying more than the scale, besides voluntarily conceding eight hours a day's work, a matter that is of vital importance to organized labor.

Mr. Whitney is a life-long Republican and edited the Albany Herald for nearly 20 years, a paper known throughout the state for its unswerving allegiance to the Republican party and the candidates nominated at their conventions. He is a native Oregonian, a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a practical union printer.

Mr. Whitney is conducting a clean, straightforward campaign, and one that will not require any apologies after its conclusion. His friends are confident that he will be re-nominated without much opposition.

SLOCUM FOR CORONER.

THE CORONER SHOULD BE A PHYSICIAN.

Why? Because a Physician is better Able to Judge the Cause of Death Under Uncertain Circumstances.

Dr. Sam Slocum if nominated and elected County Coroner will not be a candidate for a third term.

He will establish the coroner's office entirely separate from any undertaking establishment, whatsoever. He will economize, but will not let economy interfere with justice.

Doctor Slocum promises that in the selection of juries the rights of all citizens shall be conserved and the interests of the deceased's heirs shall be protected, notwithstanding the growing influences of the corporations.

Dr. Slocum will have the greatest respect for the wishes of the relatives and friends of the bereaved in the matter of funeral ceremonies.

Candidate for Republican Nomination As State Treasurer.

JUDGE THOS. F. RYAN,
Of Oregon City, Oregon.

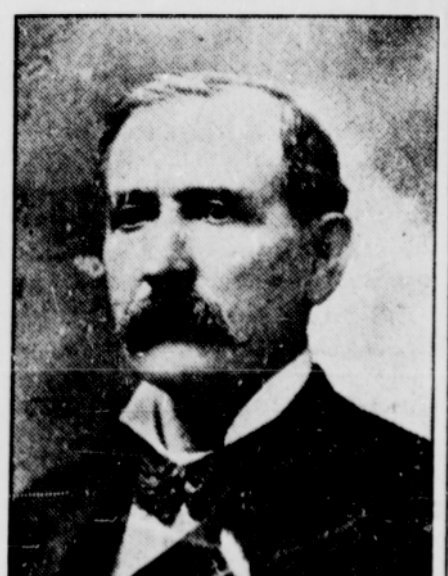

Candidate of the people and not the choice of the banks and corporations. Judge Ryan's record as a public officer proves him a man of business ability, well fitted to perform every duty required of the State Treasurer.

Being neither officer, stockholder, agent nor employee of any banking institution, he is under no obligation to any corporation and stands squarely on the following platform:

"That the funds of the State belong to the people and should not be used for the benefit of any bank or money loaning institution; that monies of the State deposited in banking institutions should draw interest, which should be paid into the State Treasury. That the State Treasurer should be prohibited from speculating our using the state funds for his personal benefit, receiving for his services only the salary allowed by law; that it be made unlawful for the State Treasurer to have any interest, either directly or indirectly, in any bank in which any of the monies of the State are deposited or loaned."

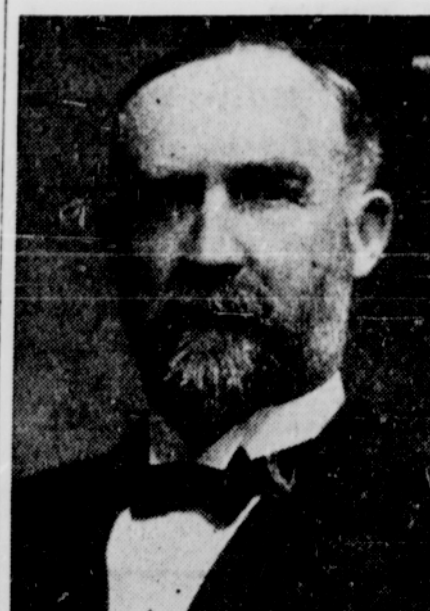

This platform is a good one, and as the other prominent candidates for this office are all bankers or employees of banks, it looks as if Judge Ryan will surely be the choice of the people as State Treasurer.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
REPRESENTATIVE

I favor Statement No. 1, and municipal ownership and regulation of public utilities. I oppose corporate greed, and any measure that is not for the best interests of the citizen. No boss or state in mine. Strict justice to all. Special privileges to none.

DR. JAMES WITHYCOMBE.

Republican Candidate for Governor

Dr. Withycombe is well known throughout Oregon. He has been a resident of this State for nearly 35 years, and during this time has always stood for a higher citizenship and loyally supported every progressive movement for the upbuilding of the commonwealth. He has been a staunch Republican all these years and a strong advocate of higher political ideals.

His sympathies are with the industrial class, believing in the dignity of labor and he is a champion of the right of honest toil.

Dr. Withycombe is a clean, conservative but broad-gauged man of unquestionable integrity and is in every way qualified for the high position to which he aspires. If elected he will give an administration to which every citizen will point with pride.

If Rand is defeated and the full Statement One delegation goes to Salem, the Citizens Alliance will go out of business in Portland.

Candidate for Republican Nomination for

COUNTY JUDGE

Primary Election April 20, 1906

C. U. GANTENBEIN

 Republican Candidate for

CIRCUIT JUDGE

 Multnomah County
Department No. 4

 The Department Now Occupied by Judge M. C. George

Colonel Gantenbein is 41 years of age, and graduated at the head of the Class of 1891 of the Law Department of the University of Oregon. For the past thirteen years he has practiced law as a member of the firm of Gantenbein & Veazie. For three years he has been Dean of the Law School of the University of Oregon, teaching nearly all branches of the law, this work being most excellent preparation for the position of Judge which he seeks.

In the words of General Otis, Governor General of the Philippines, to the Secretary of War, he "Performed difficult and distinguished services in the Philippines as Major of the Oregon Volunteer Regiment, both in the field and as an important member of military courts, boards, and commissions."

At the time of the organization of the supreme court of the Philippine Islands he was offered a position as a member of said court, but declined for personal reasons.

If elected, he pledges himself to observe the letter and spirit of his oath of office without fear, favor or prejudice.
