Declarations of the American Federation of Labor.

A few of its declarations upon which it appeals to all working people to organize, unite, federate and cement the bonds of fraternity.

The abolition of all forms of involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime.

Free schools, free text-books and compulsory education.

Unrelenting protest against the issuance and abuse of injunction process in labor disputes.

A workday of not more than eight hours in the twenty-four hour day.

A strict recognition of not over eight hours per day on all federal, state or municipal work and at not less than the prevailing per diem wage rate of the class of employment in the vicinity where the work is performed.

Release from employment one day in seven.

The abolition of the contract system on public work.

The municipal ownership of public utilities.

The abolition of the sweat shop system.

Sanitary inspection of factory, workshop, mine and home.

Liability of employers, for injury to body or loss of life.

The nationalization of telegraph and telephone.

The passage of anti-child labor laws in states where they do not exist and rigid defense of them where they have been enacted into law.

Women suffrage co-equal with man suffrage.

Suitable and plentiful play grounds for children in all cities.

The initiative and referendum and the imperative mandate and right of recall.

Qualifications in permits to build of all cities and towns that there shall be bathroom attachments in all houses or compartments used for habitation.

We favor a system of finance whereby money shall be issued exclusively by the government with such regulations and restrictions as will protect it from manipulation by the banking interests for their own private gain.

We favor a system of United States government postal savings banks.

The above is a partial statement of the demands which organized labor, in the interest of the workers—aye, of all the people of our country—makes upon modern society.

Higher wages, shorter workday, better labor conditions, better homes, better and safer workshops, factories, mills and mines. In a word, a better, higher and noble life.

Conscious of the justice, wisdom, and nobility of our cause, the American Federation of Labor appeals to all men and women of labor to join with us in the great movement for its achievement.

More than two million wage earners who have reaped the advantages of organization and federation appeal to their brothers and sisters of toil to unite with them and participate in the glorious movement with its attendant benefits.

There are affiliated to the American Federation of Labor 128 International Trade Unions, with their 27,000 local unions; 39 state federations; 632 city central bodies and 668 local trade and federal labor unions having no international.

It cannot be repeated too often: The tariff is a monstrous fraud.
