A TAX MEASURE TO WIN.

A taxation measure that combines the principles of land value taxation and graduated land tax has been proposed and published by E. S. J. McAllister, W. S. U'Ren, W. G. Eggleston, George M. Orton, H. D. Wagnon and others. It is too long for publication in this issue of the Labor Press, but its provisions are in substance as follows:
Amending Article IX, Section 2a, it provides for a graduated and specific tax upon land values, franchises, water power and other natural resources "on, in and under land," beginning with all held over $10,000 in value at $2.50 per $1,000. At $20,000 another $2.50 is added, making $5 specific tax per thousand up to $30,000, at which point another $2.50 is added, and so on until on any one holding over $100,000 the tax is $30 per $1,000. This is in addition to the ordinary levy made by county, city, school or road district, etc.
Such funds collected by this tax go to pay the state levy, schools, roads and bridges, other county expenses, special purposes approved by the voters, in the order named.
Water power must be assessed separately from the land values; and improvements also.
The State Board of Tax Commissioners is reduced to the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer, with power to direct assessments and enforce the law.
Special provision is made to permit the people of any county to levy taxes upon improvements and personal property for local purposes by so voting at a special or general election; but otherwise they are not to be taxed.
Public corporations are closely defined as any corporation having a franchise or is granted the right of eminent domain.
Forfeiture of the property is provided for if any fake sales, deeds or other subterfuges are attempted in order to evade the tax.
Of course the cry is raised against the measure of "Single Tax!" That is all the answer to it that can be made. Any law that honestly attempts to reduce taxation must be along the lines of exempting some form of labor values. Even the most rabid opponents of the single tax propose to exempt household furniture to the extent of $500. This is in the same direction as exempting improvements and personal property, and there is no more reason or sense in exempting lumber sawed up into furniture than into houses, or iron in a sewing machine than in a mowing machine.
It is expected by the promoters of this measure that it will gain support from all classes except the plundering class. It can be shown beyond the faintest doubt that it will reduce the tax on every worker, small farmer, manufacturer and home owner in Oregon. It will, on the basis of the assessment of 1910 in Multnomah county reduce the average from 20 to 6 mills.
There is to all practical effect a graduated tax now that bears the heaviest upon the small property owner in city and country, while the big syndicates and trusts and corporation franchises pay the less according to the value of their property, until vast holdings of natural resources in this state actually pay nothing!
If a graduated land value tax is imposed as provided by the measure outlined above, then it may do something toward evening up the tally. If the Oregonian and other newspapers are going to yell "single tax!" like the ding-donging of a bell, at every measure to relieve the producers from taxation, then 'ts alarms will cease to excite dismay. Indications are that this measure has struck the right path to victory and will carry in every county in Oregon, even if the plundering classes yell "single tax" until their eyes bung out.

EASY AND CHEAP.

The country merchant is as easy a sucker as any rube that ever attended a circus the first time. Here he is fighting the parcels post for nothing and boarding himself, while the express trust lays back and laughs and saves its money for dividends on its counterfeit paper. The country merchant fought the rural free delivery, but it has come to stay and grow up with the family. The parcels post is coming in spite of the express trust and its army of the cheapest lobbyists that ever served a contemptible master. Fact is the parcels post will help every class of producers in the country, including the country merchant.

What attracts men of means to a community also attracts men without means. The latter are not wanted anywhere, and if they could be sent to the moon and the land grabbers got there ahead of them, there would be no room for them there, either.

A GRAFTING SCHEME.

Present investigations shows that electricity can be and has been furnished in this city for three mills per kilowatt hour. It is now being sold for seven-eighths of a cent to favored parties. Experts along independent lines show that it costs less than one mill to generate electricity when you have water power stolen from the people. There are facts going to show that from electricity generated from waste products of sawmills the cost is less than three mills. Then a corporation asks for a special franchise in this city with a minimum rate fixed at nine cents! Such a proposition would be an insult to the intelligence of a Hottentot village. It is evidently a grafting scheme to "pull the leg" of the present light and power monopoly, and should be cut off at the pockets by throwing out the franchise asked for.

One of the best expositions of the attitude of organized labor toward industrial strikes has been contributed to the Oregonian of the 29th of April by Edgar W. Stahl. It is worth filing away to be read whenever any blatant open-shopper passes out abuse and misrepresentation of the labor unions, one instance of which Brother Stahl uses for his texts.

"Defective wiring" causes many fires, and inefficient and incompetent mechanics are responsible for it every time. It pays to demand the card of the Electrical Workers No. 317 and take no chances on fire insurance.
