

UNITED GARMENT WORKERS OF AMERICA

ISSUED BY AUTHORITY OF THE UNION

This union label if attached to your ready-made clothing and garments, guarantees to you that the makers thereof have a clean, dry, properly equipped, sanitary workshop, proper tools and a living wage. Garments made in this label are, in most cases, made in prisons or sweatshops, where the laborer is kept in a state of starvation and the desire for profit. Help place womanhood and manhood above dollars by demanding the union label.

When Peace Comes to Colorado

on again, and men, women and children have been killed. There has been quibbling discussion about who fired the first shot, as if the half of Colorado could be thrown into open war by a single rifle ball! The employers, who have disobeyed the laws; the state, which has not enforced them; the employers, who hired mine guards to assault and intimidate; the state, which took those mine guards, in company pay, into its militia, made some of them officers, and then turned them on the strikers; the employers, who had machine guns shipped in from West Virginia; the state, which took those machine guns and turned them on the tented camps, where dwelt the families of the strikers—what answer have they to the question of responsibility for war?

Peace will not come to Colorado with

PAYING THE PRICE

Whatever a man soweth that shall he also reap is a truth that cannot be disputed. Not only does he reap in kind, but he also reaps in proportion. There is no great excellence without great labor, and there is little achievement without self-denial. We must always pay the price. These truths are worthy of deep consideration; indeed, we cannot give them too much thought. They apply in everything that we undertake. Then let us apply them to the labor movement.

When we ask why labor is always at the bottom the answer is, because it has not paid the price. We have not done the things necessary to bring about better conditions. Had we done those things, happier results would have followed with mathematical certainty. It is true that we have done enough, and more than enough, and have suffered enough to have brought us the good times we long for. But our labor and sacrifice have not been devoted to our own advantage. Our time and toil have been given to make others rich.

Hence, we are not poor and destitute because we cannot and do not make enough to meet all of our reasonable needs, but because we do not give proper care to our own interests—to advancing our own cause. We build fine houses, but they are for the occupation or gain of men who have grown fat upon our toil; we erect and operate great enterprises, but the dividends come not to us, and we laboriously give our strength and skill to produce much more than enough to feed, clothe and shelter the whole family of mankind, but the distribution is unequal—somebody else gets the lion's share of what we produce.

Can anybody compel us to submit to this inequality in profit sharing by force or cunning, if we are wise and alert? Certainly not. Most of us would do the same thing if we had the chance. The blame rests solely with us—we are not willing to pay the price of justice.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty; it is also the price of justice.

There are a number of things that constitute the price of success in the labor movement, all of which are suggested by common sense and which may be easily done. Among these is the purchase of union made goods. This may not, in many cases, directly benefit you or your craft, and for that reason many union people are not careful about it, but it never fails to help the cause as a whole, and thus help, all indirectly. Another thing of importance is the prompt and punctual attendance at union meetings, especially meetings for the discussion of questions affecting the interests of union labor. Men in other callings never fail to attach great importance to such conferences, and, as a result, they reap the rich reward. The men who succeed in climbing up over our heads never fail to keep in close touch with politics, and they watch and endeavor to influence all legislation bearing upon their interests.

All union institutions, especially the labor press, ought to be liberally and constantly sustained. Look at the numbers, wealth and wide circulation of the publications that are not friendly to the cause of labor. We spend thousands, yes, millions, to make them rich and powerful, while we often fail to pay the price to our own publications. What can we expect of the harvest?

disarmament. It will not come if Mr. Rockefeller spends his fortune in defense of the thing that he thinks is personal liberty. It will not come if the strikers are starved into submission. For with 1884, 1894 and 1904 in retrospect; with Ludlow and Forbes crying to high Heaven in 1914, all precedents point to war again in 1924. It is no peace that merely chokes the issue down.

When peace does come, there will be personal liberty. But it will be more than a liberty to toil. It will include liberty to enjoy the fruits of toil. And until there is protection for that liberty there will be no peace.

Violating Health Laws.

There are 4000 bakeries in New York City. Twenty-eight hundred have no sanitary certificates of the health department and are not meeting with the requirements of the law.

Organization is business sanity.

HOW TO CLIMB THE LADDER.

Begin at the bottom. The only way you can learn the ins and outs of any business is by actual contact with conditions of every sort.

Choose your calling carefully. Success is not always measured in dollars. You might easily be the acknowledged leader in one business and a failure in another.

Go after the highest job in your own business. Every office boy ought to make up his mind to be the president of the corporation or the head of his firm.

Remember that few persons fail to get what they really go after.

Don't bother about influence. Application and untiring industry will fatten your pay envelope faster than all the "pull" in the world. Men with "pull" who succeed generally use it as a stepping stone to get more work to do, not less. Concerns worth while favor the man who delivers the goods, every time.

Never sit back and wait for the help of others. The others are too busy helping themselves to bother about you.

Bear in mind that you have got to be better than the other fellow to land the top-notch place for yourself. Two men can't hold down the same job. Every boy, once he gets his start, has an equal chance with the others. And getting the chance to start right is the hardest part of the task.

Punctuality is only a platitude. To succeed you've got to beat punctuality to a standstill. Nobody ever got in wrong with his employers by working overtime, either at the beginning or the end of the day. Clock-watchers own no automobiles. The man who listens for the whistle at the factory will never hear it on his own steam yacht.

Keep ahead of the game. Always be ready to fill the position next higher up. The successful soldier is always ready for his promotion in rank. You be the same.

Beware of being sidetracked. Petty spite, jealousy and personal antagonism may rile you almost to the breaking point, but don't be diverted. It will only distract your attention to no good end and may beat you to the ultimate goal.

Go long on self-confidence. Never be afraid of tackling anything. Even if you fail you learn a lot. No surgeon can operate successfully upon a live man before he has made his mistakes upon a dead one. Bitter experience means better experience.

Specialize. It is infinitely better to know everything about one thing than a little about everything. The specialist is ten times more in demand than the handy-man. Generally he draws an income and the other fellow draws wages.—Charles Elliott Warren, president Lincoln National Bank.

WESTERN UNION PAYS SALARIES

President Vail's $30,000. Vice-President Carlton's $35,000.

The salaries paid to officials of the Western Union Telegraph Company were made public for the first time in a list filed by the company with the Massachusetts Public Service Commission the other day. During the year ended June 30, 1913, President Theodore N. Vail received compensation of $30,000 in addition to his salary from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and Vice-President N. Carlton $35,000. Eighteen other officers received more than $6,000. Of these only seven received $10,000 or more. All but one of the five-figure salaries were paid to men in the New York office. It is understood the salaries are substantially the same this year. Here is the list as filed:

Rush Taggart, general counsel, $25,000
G. H. Fearons, general attorney, 15,000
B. Brooks, vice-president, 12,500
G. W. E. Atkins, vice-president, 12,500
A. R. Brewer, treasurer, 10,000
W. H. Baker, secretary, 10,000
E. Y. Gallaher, general auditor, 9,000
J. C. Willaver, United States manager of cables, 8,360
W. W. Ryder, manager, railway department, 7,500
G. M. Yorke, general superintendent of plant, 7,000
A. T. Benedict, assistant general attorney, 6,000
J. C. Nelson, manager messenger department, 6,500
C. H. Gaunt, general manager, Pacific Division, 10,800
T. P. Cook, general manager, West Division, 8,800
A. G. Saylor, general manager, East Division, 8,800
E. M. Mulford, general manager, Gulf Division, 7,330
H. C. Worthen, general manager, South Division, 6,500
W. J. Loyd, general manager, Mountain Division, 6,500

The Man Who Has Enemies

is the man who does things—who makes things happen; who brings things to pass; a big cog in the wheel of progress. He has plans and strives to put them into execution. If he meets with opposition and obstacles, so much the better—the greater the obstacles the greater becomes his efforts and determination to succeed. He thinks things and has the nerve and manhood to express his thoughts, not stopping to inquire who it does or does not suit.

Letter Carriers Work Alone.

The letter carriers of the United States Postoffice Department have again turned down the proposition to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. Returns from the referendum election completed a week ago show that proposed affiliation was rejected by a heavy majority.
