

KINDERGARTEN HIGHLIGHTS

Fourteen eager students await the opening of nine monarch chrysalises. What fun to watch the caterpillars grow on milkweed, then one day attach themselves to the screen on the aquarium and change into the special green sack with gold trim.

Our cooking classes have started for each letter of the alphabet. Apple Smiles, Butter and Carrot Coins have been weekly delicious treats.

"Me Vests" were created and used as uniforms for a marching band/dance team performance for family and friends. "The More We Get. Together: and "I've Got That Kindergarten Feeling", are two favorite songs for September.

With the help of Gloria Karches, our class is back into the worm farming compost business. We also hope to hatch eggs in our incubator. If anyone has fertile eggs they would like to donate, Fall or Spring, they would be greatly appreciated.

Mrs. McNeil's Kindergarten Classes have been learning first hand - and getting their hands dirty while learning - about a different kind of Recycling. Worms Eat My Garbage is a program that teaches the young students about composting their household food waste with worms, and they get soil from the worms to put back into their garden.
