It was brought to my attention that the BULLETIN is not to print articles that don't have the author's name included. So, from now on, no more Anonymous articles please.
Thank you, C.H.

Congratulations to Chuck Tumey!

The winner of the "Logging Lingo" Contest!

He got....

Jackpot- Bunch of tree length logs all crossed up.

Dinky- small self powered engine on railroad track for repair.

Pickaroon- Short hand-pick used in mill for slabs or cants.

He wins a "Logger Special" from Cory and the Totem Pole!

(Just a note to say that we also got some interesting answers from Frank & Dottie Villa, but they were not quite the correct logging terms). Thanks, you two!

A nap will make you feel better!
