THOSE WERE THE DAYS!

OWEN-OREGON LOGGING CREW POSED AT THE LANDING
IN FRONT OF A LARGE DIAMETER PINE LOG (1927).
(FROM THE ROUGE RIVER NATIONAL FOREST COLLECTION)

"This makes me think of one day when Jake was almost 4 and a log truck drove through Butte Falls with only one very big log on it. He looked at that one log load and said " My daddy can get a lot more logs on a truck than that!" At that time we were logging "Mosquito Thin" up on Fish Lake Road and were taking out loads with many, many trees to make a load. Jake thought the more the better. Yep, things sure have changed. I will never forget that one. If you enjoy this picture we have many more at the Smith House Museum at 432 Pine Street.

Come by and see us- Cory H.
