J. PIERPONT MORGAN DIES IN ROME MONDAY

Great Financier Passes Away At Five Minutes After the Noon Hour—Death Come In Rome as the End of Lingering Illness.

Rome, March 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan, the American financier, died at five minutes past 12 o'clock, noon today. (6:05 a. m. New York time.

Mr. Morgan before the end showed he was suffering internally only by a movement of his right hand. Otherwise he displayed no signs of vitality except by continuous heavy breathing.

He was unable to assimilate the artificial nourishment administered during the morning and his physical weakness was extreme. Heart tonics injected had no effect and for several hours before his death he was in a state of coma, not recognizing friends.

The body is to be embalmed and sent to the United States. A funeral service will be held before its departure.

FOUR LIVES LOST IN UPPER SIUSLAW

Crow, Or., March 31.—Three men and a boy disappeared mysteriously from the Doyle logging camp near Mound, some fifteen miles west of here yesterday, and the discovery of the body of Ralph Allen in drift in the Siuslaw river this morning is the only clue to the fate that befell them. The other members of the party are George and Jim Meyers, and Cleo Doyle, son of Jack Doyle, the contractor.

forest and nothing but a trail, scarcely wide enough in some places for a horse to walk. One place in particular the horse has to pick its way through immense boulders where a mistep would hurl horse and rider over a precipice down to a depth of one hundred feet among the rocks of the canyon.

During the winter season Mrs. Crum had to carry an ax with her to cut away fallen trees that many times she found across the trail. Mrs. Crum crossed the creek five times in one day when the water was seven feet deep.

Not being satisfied with this small amount of exercise she seen to the cutting of the wood and raised and harvested one hundred and fifty bushels of potatoes and other garden truck on the side. On top of this she did her own house work. Fairly good we think for a lady near 70 years old.

RESULT OF THE CITY ELECTION IN FLORENCE

Tuesday occurred the annual city election for city dads to serve the people of Florence for the next year. It resulted in the election of the following officers, Pres. Board of Trustees, A. O. Knowles, David Crutcher, Geo. T. Schroeder and F. E. Myers, Recorder, D. E. Severy; Marshall, C. D. Morey.

Quit a good deal of merriment was occasioned by the number of tickets which came into the field the morning of election, some five or six independent tickets beside the regular caucus ticket were sprung, more, we presume, in the nature of an April Fool joke. However good natured rivalry prevailed throughout the day and everyone seemed satisfied that we have a good set of officers who will serve the people with credit to themselves as well as the town.

PLUCKY WOMAN CARRIES MAIL DURING WINTER

Jacob S. Crum and wife who moved to Nebraska last week were residents of the valley for fourteen years. Three years were spent in Florence and eleven on Sweet Creek where they for a time owned a ranch. The past four years Mr. Crum had the contract for carrying the mail from Point Terrace to Earl. During the last seventeen months Mr. Crum has been unable to carry the mail himself in fact has been bed-fast the most of the time. Not to be foiled on account of sickness or other difficulties, Mrs. Crum took up the task and for seventeen months never missed but one trip and was never late but once. The distance from Point Terrace to Earl is eight miles and most of the way through a dense

FIDDLE CREEK HAS SOME HIGH WATER

Three days and nights of heavy rain made Fiddle Creek look a stream worthy of its name (Tsilcoos River) it spread from hill to hill covering most of the bottom lands. But the drouth of Monday and Tuesday sent our creek creeping back into its bed a very humble and unassuming little stream once more. I have heard of little damage done through some small bridges and fences became movable property.

The boys on the lower creek got down quite a bunch of logs to the Martain Saw Mill while the water was up.

The Wooden hen is up to Snuff She will hatch either chicks or ducks.

Then all the owners has to do is to furnish the quacks or clucks.

Mrs. J. L. Furnish and Miss Marion Scott are each possessor of a fine brood of incubator chicks I didn't stop to count 'em but I guess there is enough to furnish wish bones to go over half the doors in this end of the county.

Scott was in Acme Monday and set up two new cream separators and stoped on his way home and put another on Maple Creek.

Roy Parkhurst and Ray Martin are building a new launch at the saw mill. A. V. Gibson is working on a row boat at the same place. Must be going to have another flood.

F. T. Gilpatrick went to the bay Saturday it was raining when he got back I havent dared to ask Gil if it rained any along the road.

Six cans of cream from Fiddle Creek this week. Will make it sixteen soon.

Two Views of Broken Dam At Nashville, Tenn.

Photos by American Press Association

UNDERMINED the great stone dam of the big reservoir at Nashville, Tenn. gave way, and with a roar the water rushed down upon dozens of houses, dealing death to several persons and causing considerable property damage. The wall of the dam was broken and cracked like so much paper as can be seen in the illustrations. The break came in the dead of night and without warning. One family was saved by climbing into a tree from the roof of their home, as their dwelling was swept to destruction by the unchecked force of the unleashed waters.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

Last Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the home of the brides grandmother Mrs. Katrina Langshoof in Glenada occurred the wedding of Mary R. Stevens to Chas. I. Wisdom. Rev. John Drumm of the first Presbyterian church of Florence officiating. Mr. & Mrs. Wisdom have embarked on the matrimonial sea under the most favorable circumstances both being well and favorably known in this community. Miss Stevens has for a number of years made her home with the late Colonel Holden and wife and was so attached to them that she seemed almost like a daughter. Mr. Wisdom is a son of J. G. Wisdom of Glenada and at present is employed by the Tidewater Mill Co. They will make their home for the present with J. G. Wisdom in Glenada. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at which all did ample justice. Here's to a long and happy married life with best wishes of this office.

Those present were, Captain Johannissen of the Schooner Sausalito J. G. Wisdom and wife, Omar Wisdom and family, Jodie Wisdom, Esther Stevens, Klouse Stevens, Roland Stevens, Miles Stevens and Rev. Drumm.

NEW GAME RESERVE MADE

Word has been received by Overton Dowell, Jr. game warden that the south one half of township 15; 11 west and all of township 16; 11 west was set aside by the last legislature as a game reserve and will be known as Grass Mountain game preserve. It is located near Saddle mountain north of Florence and was made primarily to protect the elk in that vicinity.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF—In the case of Lillian Snell vs. J. A. Peterson, tried in Justice Goude's court last Monday before a jury of six men, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Mrs. Snell sued Peterson for the cost of keeping the horses through a portion of the winter, the amount sued for being eighty dollars. The verdict rendered was for seventy-five dollars, each party to pay half the cost and own attorney fees. R. C. Wiygant was attorney for the plaintiff, and Judge D. E. Severy for the defendant.

DAN BRUHN'S BODY FOUND IN MID-STREAM

More Than Two Months After the Body Is Found Floating With the Current, About Twelve Miles From Where the Accident Occurred

After more than three months of searching, the body of Dan Bruhn General Superintendent for Porter Bros. was found floating among the drift wood opposite E. P. Wait's place above Acme, last Saturday about four o'clock, by Allen Brown, fireman on the tug Roberts. Asked how he happened to make the discovery he said it had always been his custom since the drowning to look out over the water whenever opportunity afforded. He had just been down in the engine room fixing the fires and came up and looked out where some drift was floating and seen an object that looked like a bunch of clothes. Going up to the pilot house he asked Captain Jones if he had seen anything and he said he hadn't. On hearing the fireman's story the captain immediately turned the boat around and went back and it proved to be the body of the unfortunate man. They towed the body out of the way of the drift and tied it to Ole Myrind's wharf and telephoned Porter Bros. office in Florence. They then got in telephone connection with Acting Coroner Goude who ordered the body brought to Florence. Mr. Safley was employed and about six o'clock Saturday evening a party of five or six was taken on the Minnie Mitchel after the body which arrived here about 8 o'clock and was placed in Kyles warehouse where an inquest was held Sunday morning by acting Coroner Goude. The verdict as rendered by the jury was that the deceased came to his death Jan. 21, 1913 by accidental drowning. The body was then taken in charge by undertaker L. H. Lowe and on being searched the following articles were found on the body. Key marked Eugene Lodge B. P. O. E. 357 No. 86. Fountain pen, two pocket books, memoranda book, letters and papers, watch and Knights Templar charm, Diamond ring, two bunches of keys, stick pin with opal set, corn cob pipe and package of tobacco, Elks receipt, The Dalles No. 303, Oregon Trunk Railroad pass June 30, 1911 one five dollar bill, one ten dollar bill, twenty-five cents silver, one pocket knife and flash light. His watch stopped at one and one-half minutes to five o'clock. The body was sealed in a metallic casket and shipped to Portland on the Str. Anvil.

GLENADA LADIES GIVE TO RELIEF FUND

The flood waters of Ohio have begun to recede only to leave great desolation and grief. Calls for aid are being sent from hundreds of places. Death and starvation are there. Need for help is great and every section is responding. The Ladies' Needle Club of Glenada, had money in their treasury with which they intended for a supper, but this afternoon at their regular meeting they voted the entire amount of $7.00 into the relief fund for flood sufferers and will send it to Mgr. Duryea, of the Eugene Commercial Club.

NEW RESIDENCE and CHAPEL—

Roy Lowe the undertaker will shortly commence the erection of a new residence on his lots in Glenada. Later on he will build a chapel for holding funeral services in, and where he can better look after his business. Mr. Lowe is a graduate embalmer and believes the time has arrived when such an institution has become a necessity to the community. It will be built close to Lake street and facing the plank road along the river front.

IMPROVING BARBERSHOP—

Bert Williams has placed another chair in his shop and expects to have another barber and an apprentice soon. He has also been doing inside decorating and now has a very neat and tasty room.

S. P. HOSPITAL TO MOVE—

The Southern Pacific Hospital which is now located near the Wild cat is preparing to move to a location on Richard Clow ranch just below Mapleton. Mr. Clow is to extend his water system so as to furnish the hospital.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY THEMSELVES ENMASQUE

A mask party was held at the home of H. D. Chamberlain last Saturday night from 8 till 12 o'clock. Everybody was masked, representing different characters. Games were played, and we have it from one who was there, that something was doin' every minute. Refreshments were served at 11:30.

Those present were: Virgil Yarborough, Floyd McLain, Ed. Meacham, Ernest Ready, Olaf Rice, Herbert Crosby, Wm. Richardson, Wilkie Yost, Eunice Johnson, Byrle Johnson; Merle Caniff, Anna Meadows, Edith Yates, Jennie Rice, Ina Bail, Francis Drumm, Edith Miner, Lona Severy and Mabel Fisk.

Chaperones for the occasion were: Mrs. Yates, Rev. Drumm and H. D. Chamberlain.

SIUSLAW BUILDING MATERIAL COMPANY

E. S. Dyer, the local representative of the Siuslaw Building Material Co., has been contracting in Portland five years, in which time he has engaged in all kind of contracting, such as cement sidewalks, brick buildings, brick work of all descriptions, foundations, street paving, heavy timber construction in factories, bungalows, etc. He also draws plans for store buildings and bungalows. Mr. Dyer came in by the way Junction, arriving here last Thursday, and is so well pleased with the outlook, that he has concluded to locate permanently. For the present he has desk room with F. E. and now has a very neat and tasty room. He has rented for a warehouse the room that was occupied by Uncle Ben Rutledge as a carpenter shop. It is located in the Rice-Knowles Rice building, just back of Mrs. Kanoff's military store.

N. S. Dodge of Portland came in from points south Tuesday via Barretts stage.
