

THE SIALAW PILOT

VOL. I. FLORENCE, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1913 NUMBER 12

HAIL TO QUEEN RHODODENDRA VI SILVER BELL WINS BY SCORE OF 8

Preparations for the Carnival are being rushed to a finish; committees are busy with the final work and the Rhododendrons themselves seem to be doing their best to add to the appearance. In the last few days the buds have opened to their fullness and the bushes are loaded with blossoms. Visitors are coming in and the hotels are filling.

On every hand are heard plans for costumes of the different princesses and chiefs and members of the visiting tribes. There has been some hard work on the part of each tribe to send its people in befitting style to the Council.

The Big Chief Black Hawk will be there and those other chiefs of the great tribes that make the Siuslaw nation, also that crafty and mysterious medicine man Shak-a-Shack.

By prowess of the bow a queen will be selected from the highest maidens of the land and she who can shoot an arrow best 25 feet will be the chosen one.

OUTLINE OF PLAN.

The general plan for the first day of the Festival this year is to hold a convention at Florence after the fashion of an Indian council. Persons taking part in the council will represent Indian chiefs and princesses from various communities along the Siuslaw River.

The princesses will hold a bow and arrow contest to determine which of their number will reign as queen. The chiefs in council will speak on various topics of general interest.

In the afternoon will be speaking by the white man's ambassadors to the Indian nations. Following this will be various sports.

The second day will be devoted to the school fair and speaking along educational lines. School fair open both days in new Harbor-Sound Investment Cos. building.

SIXTH AND SEVENTH GRADE EXAMINATIONS

The uniform examination for the sixth and seventh grades in Supervisory District No. 5 for May, 1913, resulted as follows.

No. of applicants for Sixth Grade Promotion Certificates 12.

No. of applicants for Seventh Grade Promotion Certificates 9.

The following passed the examination with good averages.

Grade	Name
SIXTH GRADE
Florence	Edward Sanborn
Hazel Fanton, Walton Schroeder, Herbert McCormack, Vesta Agee, Viva Drake, Iris Morris, Cora Woodard.
Reed—John Taylor, Nellie Mead.
SEVENTH GRADE
Florence	Carl Severy, Homer Severy, Marie Deveney, Clinton Carlson.
Greenleaf—Gladys Parker.

This years papers in these grades show a marked improvement over those of last year. It is probably due to the fact that better work is being done in the grades below the eighth. School people are learning to lay a good foundation before they build the superstructure.

NEW BUILDING ERECTED ON THE NORTH FORK

The Grange building being erected at Portage was completed Saturday and is a great improvement and convenience to the North Fork people. It is a two-story building and will be used for store and hall purposes. H. D. Smoak was construction foreman.

Monday the crew of carpenters under H. D. Smoak, the contractor will commence the construction of a modern dairy barn for H. M. Peterson. It will be 40-60 and will cost about $1,500. The building is to be completed July 1st.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

We are indebted to Mrs. Alla D. Gummoe, of Glenada, for the privilege of printing a few extracts of a letter from a friend, who at one time resided in Lane county.

Fort Dodge, Kansas, March 26,
My Dear Mrs. Gummoe—Night before last we were very much surprised when we received a copy of the Siuslaw Pilot, and learned therefrom, that you had "hied you hence" to Florence, Oregon.

When I began to read it I was immensely interested, but Mr. Cook interrupted me with "What do they have to say about the salmon?" He insisted, "O, yes, it does too. Such a thing could not occur as to have a paper printed on the Pacific coast of Oregon and not say something about salmon." Pretty soon I found the article on "salmon." I read aloud for his special benefit, and after a hearty laugh he said, "Well, I don't blame them, they know they have only the choicest article when they speak of salmon, the most toothsome salmon on the coast and why not let every one else know they know it."

I enjoyed the paper very much and I thank you for your thoughtfulness in sending me a copy. I even read the advertisements. Hampton's of Eugene looked natural.

When you was on the stage did the wheels strike any tree roots. I have gone to Eugene from our place, sixteen miles, and would strike a root on the right side that would throw me over to the left and just as I would begin to straighten up, the left wheel would strike a root and go down into a chuck hole and throw me over to the right. I never was liver-grown while living in Oregon, and I never heard of any one who was. One trip to town would change a sallow to a clear complexion with a rosy cheek thrown in.

Oregon has some beautiful girls, and I must say I never saw finer looking crowds anywhere than at an Oregon gathering. I often thought that one-half their beautiful looks were due to the hard jofts they got when trying to travel from place to place.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT FLORENCE

A summer domestic Arts course will be held in Florence this summer under the auspices of the schools of Supervisory District No. 5.

An instructor is coming from Corvallis and instruction will be given in cutting, fitting, altering and mending. There will be two classes of girls—the beginners and those who have had more practice in sewing. To the more advanced class the mothers and older sisters or any woman interested will be welcomed to the advanced class.

The course will begin June 16. Tuition will be only enough to cover expenses of the instructor. Arrangements will be made for girls out of town to come together properly chaperoned. Circulars of information will be distributed soon. Meanwhile anyone desiring to learn any thing further concerning the course may correspond with Miss Jennie M. Bossen of Florence or Miss Goldie Van Bibber of Mapleton.

Should the people of the valley cooperate in this movement sufficiently to make it a success it may result in the establishing of some permanent summer school which would be of great value to the Siuslaw valley.

The bungalow of W. H. O'Kelley, secretary-treasurer of the Harbor-Sound Investment Co. is being rushed. The foundation is up and the workman are cutting the frame.

Wm. Kyle & Sons Co., received on the Sausiletto a shipment of 30,000 brick. This is the largest amount ever brought in at one time and is a part of the building materials they will carry in stock. They also received a consignment of lime and cement.

Inez H. Gillmore, Authoress. Now an Ardent Suffragist

AMONG the ardent suffragists who are lending their time and talents to the "votes for women" crusade in this country is Mrs. Inez Gillmore, the authoress. She is best known by her Martin stories of American home life. Her name is not confined to these tales, however, for she has contributed liberally to the magazines and has written several novels. She writes at the rate of 1,500 words a day. She was born in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, and her parents moved to Boston when she was an infant. She was selected to take a prominent part in the elaborate pageant at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, at which Colonel Roosevelt agreed to deliver his first formal speech in favor of woman suffrage.
