For the Torch of Reason.

Little Torch.

BY W. E. JOHNSON.

I reproach him [Mr. Ingersoll] for having tried to destroy religion, which is a hold, and not to replace it by anything.—[Edwin Markham, author of "The Man with a Hoe".

My! My! The doctor has done gone and taken the smallpox away from me and given me nothing in its place! What a mean doctor he is! Boo hoo!

No man can be saved by works of righteousness performed by himself.—[Zion's Outlook.

If that is true, what is the use of being righteous? The god who damns a righteous man because he don't believe in some ghost story and saves a professional horsethief who does believe it, is apt to populate his heavenly reservation with an undesirable class of people. On the whole it seems safer to go to hell with the crowd.

No man who does not thoroughly abhor that which is evil can love the good with all his might and soul.—[Methodist Recorder.

That's just the fault we find with you Christians. You are so blindly in love with your cruel, immoral god that you have no room in your soul for things that are good. It is an uphill job to live on a high plane of morality when intellectually chained to a god whose cruelties and immoralities have been recorded in your so-called "sacred writ" for a thousand years.

He [Ingersoll] claimed great friendship for workingmen, and posed as the champion of the poor, but there is no record of any tangible kindness ever bestowed.—[Pacific Baptist.

Here, you champion long distance, Rocky Mountain liar! What are you talking about? For twenty years Colonel Ingersoll has given away to charitable purposes the bulk of his income of $50,000 a year. Were it not for his life insurance, his widow would be compelled to sell the home to get money to live on. If you would come down East and tell that yarn to any one of Mr. Ingersoll's thousands of poor beneficiaries, you would get your head bumped before you could get around the corner to the first saloon.

Remember, if you send us the names and addresses of 25 of your Liberal friends and acquaintances, we will make you a present of a copy of the Torch of Reason Song Book No. 1. This will only cost you a few minutes' work and a two-cent stamp.

Our offer of the Torch of Reason and the Oregonian for $1.50 is at an end and we now return to the old rate of $1.75, which is very reasonable, and we hope to get many subscriptions to both papers. Torch of Reason, $1.00; Oregonian, $1.50—$2.50 for only $1.75.
