The Cosmopolitan.

The voice of Olive Schreiner rings true and clear for liberty for her country and her sex. Of all the champions of the Boers, in their present difficulty with England none is more logical and more fervent than the famous author of "The Story of a South African Farm" and "Dreams." Mrs. Schreiner brings into the fight for her countrymen the same brilliant logic, high intelligence and remarkable talent that she has displayed in the November Cosmopolitan Magazine, in her article on "The Woman Question." She has made this subject a special study for ten years, and pleads the cause of her sex with a loftiness of purpose and a strength of argument that will command instant and world-wide attention. The article is the most notable pronouncement on this eternal question that has been printed in the last ten years. It will be concluded in the December number.

Friends Without Money.

There are many friends who may not have the means to aid Secular education now, but who know of those who have, and who would be willing to act if they knew the facts about the Liberal University.

To the friends who will take the trouble to present the case of our University to others and obtain subscriptions to stock or property, we will see that the usual allowance to agents is made.

P. W. GEER,
Business Manager.

Is Writing a Book.

Mrs. Wm. E. Gruber, of 21 Elliot Street, received a few days ago a large box of very beautiful cotton buds picked Wednesday, Nov. 8th, by Mrs. A. W. Dellquest at one of the largest cotton plantations in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Mrs. Dellquest writes a very interesting description of southern life. She is at present writing a book, entitled "Places and People," which will soon be published, and will be found to contain the same characteristics of individuality which made her, as Grace E. Gruber, a favorite.—[Brockton (Mass.) Enterprise.]

[We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Dellquest is to favor us with more of her writings, which are always interesting. Changing her name will certainly be no hindrance to her writings.]

Remember, if you send us the names and addresses of 25 of your Liberal friends and acquaintances, we will make you a present of a copy of the Torch of Reason Song Book No. 2. This will only cost you a few minutes' work and a two-cent stamp.

Secularists would you not like to have some letterheads printed with Secular sentiment and Wettstein's Freethought badge, to use in correspondence with your friends? We will furnish them to you with your name and address printed on them for 75 cents per hundred, $1.50 per 250, or $2.50 for 500, postpaid. Let the people know where you stand.
