"The Ingersoll Chair."

Mr. and Mrs. Burtis, of Michigan, who have invested two hundred dollars in stock in the Liberal University, write as follows:

"We notice in the last Torch of Reason a movement in the right direction by the board of directors and contains more and better infor- of the L. U. O., having for its object the establishing of an Ingersoll Northwest than any other paper, and is the best news paper in Oregon. Chair for the Liberal University, You get sixteen pages of good read- and we hope all the friends of the and we hope all the friends of the the news of the nation and the one who devoted his life to the elevation of mankind above the superstitions, fears and senseless creeds of orthodoxy will take hold and help with this undertaking."

We shall be pleased to hear from one year for only $1.50, the price more of our friends regarding this matter, and hope they will tell us what they are willing to give to help the good cause along.

Teach the Known.

The God idea being strictly speculative, as is conceded by most eminent churchmen, it is self-evident that it can not be legally nor equitably introduced - no matter under what guise-into our public schools, and objections to so doing are strictly legitimate. Not so with the study of physiology, which is emphatically a positive science, established and endorsed in its general lished and endorsed in its general aspects and utility by all nations and sects alike (the objection of a few demented and misspided indicated in the section of a few demented and misspided indicated in the section of a few demented and misspided indicated in the section of a few demented and misspided indicated in the section of a few demented and misspided indicated in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented and misspided in the section of a few demented in the sectio few demented and misguided individuals can not rationally be considered). Physiology places the animal organism upon the dissecting table and teaches and demonstrates the utility, relations and functions of the various organs and parts of the human form-one of the most valuable studies in the curriculum of our schools to every man, woman and child.

Theology is purely speculative, Ingersoll's Prose Poems. Portrait. absolutely nondemonstrable; physiology positive and knowable. We have thousands of churches where those who desire can worship in peace (the law will even protect a Dowie); we have only our schools where all may become familiar with the great science most conducive to their health and happiness.

When theism can be demonstrated like mathematics, chemistry, astronomy and physiology, then, but not till then, will it be strictly in order to introduce it into our public schools, and no sane individual will then object. - [Otto Wettstein in Chicago Evening Post.
