For the Torch of Reason.

A Sad Comment.

BY D. E.

It is painful to reflect that apparently the strongest motive heretofore influencing the conduct of men has been the dread of the "wrath to come" and fear of the "eye that and contains more and better infor- never slumbers nor sleeps". The greatest fiction that was ever foistis the best news paper in Oregon. ed for a fact upon the credulity of man is that of the existence of God the news of the nation and the and a future life for man. Yet it is claimed that this falsehood has been the chief restraint upon the passions of men hitherto; and it looks very much as if it were so.

But must it always be so? Can good conduct be secured only by falsehood? Must the good always be yoked with falsehood? There are some of us who think this state of things has lasted long enough. We believe that Paul was correct when he said that right conduct has the promise of the life that now is. Let us try to live uprightly simply for the sake of the present life. Let us see if we cannnot do as well in this way as those "children of God" who try to do right while here on earth for the sake of heaven hereafter.

For the Torch of Reason.

"Guilded" Points.

BY JOHN P. GUILD.

Those who have only ability enough to do mechanical work by patterning after others, brag of being practical.

Those only are practical who know and apply the principles of things. It is useless to do unless you know, but if you know you may do.

Hell hath no worse torment for a drunkard damned than his own damned thirst, and if he were to go to heaven he would cart hell there in his own insides.

Wealth and truth are both trusts in the hands and heads of those who have them, and each class should use his possessions for the benefit of the other.

There is no better church in which to wed wealth to truth than the Liberal University at Silverton, Oregon, and all Freethinkers who have money to spare ought to know about it. Send them the Torch.

The Liberal University is no "private graft," but a public trust, therefore write it up all ye "Liberal" paper publishers.

Remember, if you send us the names and addresses of 25 of your Liberal friends and acquaintances, we will make you a present of a copy of the Torch of Reason Song Book No. 2. This will only cost you a few minutes' work and a two-cent stamp.
