Is a phone number to call to confess your sins. You may also listen to the sins of others.
1) Leave a message of your sins.
2) Call back and during the opening message punch in 22, .. wait a sec .. , then 5. Now wait till the tape rewinds. (We get up to 30-50 calls a week so be patient. You will hear many ba-beep, ba-beep, ba-beeps.) If you get bored hit 2 to skip through message to the next one.

ARIES: Nobody loves a whiner. Yes, booblah, there is drudge work and yes, you have to do it. Hunker down and, if necessary, indulge yourself with something extravagantly domestic. You're more than worth it. Close relationships could be a mine field, so don't shoot your mouth off to those who, as they say, butter your bread. If your lover misreads you, check your message and don't expect more than you're willing to give. It's your turn to prime the pump.

TAURUS: Wave goodbye to Venus, planet of the flirts. The honeymoon's over. Celebrate with a last ditch effort at romance or, better yet, unbridled love. As if you needed permission, indulge yourself. Purr regularly, cuddle with gay abandon, throw a nude croquet tournament, play politics with strangers, hit the boss up for a raise. Don't worry about details and give grand gestures a shot. You can be a fussy budget and wet blanket later.

GEMINI: Regular motion being what it is, Venus moves into your sign on the 5th (Greenwich daylight saving time, allow three days for delivery west of the Rockies). Your cabin fever is not something to ignore. Get out of the house and work out the kinks. Ignore the many opportunities for conflict and listen to your heart. You're much more stable than you think and, if you lighten up on the reins, the world will give you a big kiss.

CANCER: Unless your karma is hopelessly gnarled, this should be a great month. The new moon and the full moon are in just the right place and Mars is sextile in Virgo (the astrological opposite of down and out in Paris). Throw from your mind all thoughts of micromanaging the universe. It does quite well without your fidgeting. Loose ends come together, old accounts get paid, work bears fruit. Of course, Mercury being retrograde (advancing to the rear in astrological terms), your foot might form a close relationship with your mouth. Do what's right and the details take care of themselves.

LEO: The madcap bobsled run to your birthday has started. The interface of the old and the new, decay and resurrection, that sort of thing. Not the month to listen to the idiot monkey of the mind. Your heart knows the score and your stomach lets you know when you're kidding yourself. Look for the source of obstructions. If distance opens between you and yours, behave nobly and use the time to look in the mirror. Ego, bless its heart, can make a person forget who they are.

VIRGO: You might want to sit down. Welcome to chaos, a nitpicker's worst nightmare. Mercury, the planet of convertibles and rational communication, is (there's no nice way to put it) GOING BACKWARD! This is not fun for Virgos who, if they ignore the control panel, may behave like short circuiting androids. Concentrate on relaxing, or at least on not talking to yourself in restaurants. On the bright side, you'll have some brilliant intellectual flashes. If you're smart, you'll ignore them.

LIBRA: In the poker game of life, you're about to fill several inside straights. You know how some days you could walk blindfolded down the freeway and be picked up by an ice cream truck? That's your month. Without effort, you can be the class act of your dreams. Keep your standards high and everything is in reach. If a new project, or a promising horse appears, jump on it. No, this doesn't mean you sign contracts without reading them. The stupid are, statistically speaking, less lucky than the thoughtful.

SCORPIO: Though communications are hopelessly garbled, or can be, it's a good time to talk turkey with your partner. Or better yet, just do something unbelievably thoughtful and selfless. It's not the time to play social butterfly. Close friends and familiar scenes may seem indisputably alien. If possible, restrict going anywhere but inside. Take a look at the big picture (who are you, why are you here, and whose karma is Rush Limbaugh?) without trying to frame it.

SAGITTARIUS: Affairs of the heart go swimmingly this month. This nearly offsets what happens to affairs of the wallet. You may be reminded that a well without water is a hole. Which makes this the perfect month to tell everyone who might be willing to loan you money how much they mean to you. If you're not telling the truth, the magic won't work. What does work is turning your energies to the needs of others. The flow depends on the vacuum created by getting outside yourself.

CAPRICORN: Your mission this month, whether you accept it or not, is to let go of the material world. You can still eat, of course, but sanity depends on tapping your emotional roots. Open up with your feelings but don't be a nitwit. There's a good chance someone isn't showing all their cards. Knowing this might come in handy on the job. Something deep is brewing. Dummy up, watch, and wait. What you see is not what's there when you look.

AQUARIUS: Saturn, the planet of staying after school, continues to ride you like a harpy. Face the front and learn your lessons. You'll get your summer vacation next year. Your love life, for a change, won't be floundering. Take pleasure where you can and give it back with interest. Speaking of interest, don't get huffy and self-righteous over budgets. Money is money, people aren't.

PISCES: Your talent for independence (or your penchant for living in alternate dream states) holds you in good stead this month. Forget the gestures of warmth and affection, they'll just get you slapped. Under no circumstances flirt. When you must deal with reality, focus on where your responsibility lies. Avoid reasonable people whose rationality doesn't make sense. If you must listen to someone, find a poet.
