

Aries: Due to the dalliance of certain planets in your house of Whoopie, the sociosexual tempo heats up. No sense sugar coating things: you may find yourself beating suitors away with short lengths of two by four. Which should distract you from making hilarious decisions about money. When faced with substantive joint decisions, remember others have feelings too. Firing warning rounds over their heads will get you nowhere. Whenever possible, lay low and consider large issues. Short term pleasures are fine, just don't forget it's a long game.

Libra: Your biggest danger this month is smiling so much you hurt your face. It's your turn to be the universe's speckled pup and all sorts of humans line up to fall in love with you. If you're married this could be dangerous. Or would be, were not your mate one of them. In the midst of this all-pervasive kissy-kissy (and some of it is, if not asexual, at least platonic), look at ways to put your work into efficient right action. Money's nice, if it doesn't cost too much. When the winds blow cold again, you'll be the sum of your principles.

Taurus: It's spring, what can we say? The sap is rising in your relationships, carnal and otherwise. When emerging from your cave, take a moment to admire your friends without ignoring the traits that often make them idiots and jerks. Cut everyone slack and be there for them when they need you. It's okay to keep score as long as everyone gets the same judge. If you must be stubborn, and being a Taurus you must, be stubborn about someone else's rights instead of your own. Mooing louder doesn't make you right. It just makes you loud.

Scorpio: Householder duties could be a drag but, other than that, your mantra this month is: Holy Cow! What you're looking for is outside and, unless you're in a coma, you'll stumble into it. Try not to gloat. Failing this, at least don't smirk. Don't ignore work, just wind it up and check back now and then. Whatever problems arise are quickly worked through if (don't laugh) your heart is good and your motives don't begin with the words "I want." Take everything that's offered you and give everything you have. It's a flow out there, and it's round.

Gemini: March looks like the perfect month for you to get fired. Though things are on the upswing, you're still feeling snarly and it shows. Dummy up and work. So the escalator of success is clogged with incompetent ninnyes who steal your ideas and don't return your calls. What's new? So your lover doesn't appreciate you. So what? If someone's been telling you life's perfect, get their name and sue. Short of that, get out of your whiney little cocoon and do something that makes you feel good. No, not that. Something normal.

Sagittarius: If you're looking for a little down time, it's going to be a miserable month. Things to do, people to put up for the night. It's not just that you're popular (your mate probably isn't thinking so right now), it's that a lot of other people's lives have become emotional quagmires and strong shoulders are to lean on. A good time to clean out the attic (so to speak) and fix any leaking toilets in your emotional life. Scenes from childhood may pop up, tempting you to be less than adult. Selfishness only seems like a good idea.

Cancer: It's one on one time. The long lonely slog is about over. You finally manage to spot weld your personal life to your ambitions. If you must travel, and you probably will, take your new love along. If you can't get out of town, take a seminar or sign up for a class. If you can't get out of the house, turn off the t.v. and go somewhere quiet in your mind. Sit on the porch and mull things through. You know who you are and what to do, now put your ducks in a row and get on with it. Don't expect miracles. Pucker up and generate them.

Capricorn: Your pond is very quiet this month. Sit beside it and watch the ripples. Yes, they form a message. The surest way to waste a day is to behave like there's no tomorrow. The surest way to be alone is to not value friendship. Keep your ears open and your mouth shut and you just might learn something. If it's broken, fix it. If it's wrong, change it. If it's wonderful, hug it. Be of stout heart and don't force anyone's hand. Allow space and don't get clutchy. Neither should you push. Unless it's the only way to get out of a rut.

Leo: Some like it hot. Some get their little paws burned. You don't want to hear this, but love's not where it's at this month. Since nothing in the universe is uglier than a Leo with his or her feelings hurt, do everyone a favor and cool your jets. It's not that we don't love you, we just have separate agendas. While you're waiting for the tide to turn, why not practice a few virtues. Work's a good one, so are patience, humility, and compassion. Controlling and manipulation aren't. Behave with dignity and decorum and be a host to everyone you meet.

Aquarius: A month of plain dealing. Schisms between who you are and what you do for money open to swallow your confidence. Fortunately, your bedrock is sound. Never for a moment forget who you are. Or doubt that the people who love you are the wind in your sails. Real answers never come easy and they never come at all when we fool ourselves. Or sell our dreams too cheaply. Or confuse the status quo for a behavioral imperative. What is it you value? Why? Who is it that values you? Discriminate gently and celebrate with discretion.

Virgo: Weak spirited Virgos should stop reading now. It's not going to be a pretty month. You're getting on people's nerves, cupcake. Especially those closest to you. Not that you'll listen, but sit down and talk things over. Don't shillyshally about. State your case plainly and be prepared to be alone. Leap at nothing and notice how green your grass really is. Laughable as it sounds, you should try to have fun. It won't be easy. But it won't be as hard as trying to hold chaos together with logic. Not to worry, April will come.

Pisces: If you love swimming up stream, this is your month. And, given the company you keep, it should be fun. What won't be fun is drifting between one fuzzy warm something and another. Does the word 'goal' ring any bells? You're not going to feel too good without one. Values come with a price and only nitwits quibble with the machinery of karma. Don't confuse asking deep questions with moping about in your bathrobe. The rest of us are trying to have a good time. Say yes to challenges and be the first to pat yourself on the back.
