

ARIES: If you don't have a memorable romance this month, you're not trying. The trick is to separate love from power. Stop whining. In the right mood, critiquing gay abandon can be fun. In general, this is no time to push and shove. Be sure the line you're standing in is for the movie you want to see. Opportunities outnumber restraints now and you get further in the back seat than most people do behind the wheel. Ensemble playing makes for great solos.

TAURUS: Back off, cupcake. Fussing and fuming about money never gets you anything but rich. He or she with the most toys still croaks, and friends are next to impossible to buy. Dig? Only a nitwit ignores widening gaps in their love life and understanding is even more fun than being understood. Enlightened play is powerful juju this month, especially with Venus biting your ankles. Consider the unconscionable, sign nothing, and remember the best realities are dreams.

GEMINI: Mars (planet of profligate energy, ritual scourging and blood feuds) stomps in to separate your wheat from your chaff. Consider it an opportunity. You never lose anything you're not better off without and now's a great time to figure out which part of your talk you're not walking. No part of it should be on someone else's toes. Move on plans with gentle force and cop to your shortcomings, especially in relationships. Which, by the way, often collapse from neglect.

CANCER: Happy solar return, crabbies. The idiot monkey of the mind masquerades as a Trojan horse bearing gifts wrapped in old scenarios and tied with bows of inappropriate guilt. Separate what was from what is and what works from what doesn't. Upheavals are never accidents. They're nature's way of getting at the truth. The transitions in your personal life continue, so sign no pacts that preclude them. Beginnings and endings outnumber middles.

LEO: Another good month to fall in love. Another bad month to let it interfere with work. Long term projects come to fruit if you're not off lollygagging and miss the meeting. Force no issues, be diplomatic, and surrender privacy with great care. Time to devote yourself to yourself. Perceptions are acute and you may find what you're whistling for isn't what you want. Hammer out sonnets and invoke rational dreams. No dear, self discipline's not just for sissies.

VIRGO: Listen to reason, but don't ignore those who find you cute as a bug. There'll be a lot of them. If you do fall in love, pray it's not with a Leo. You're both inclined to lovely inappropriateness just now. That feeling of impending completion is no accident. Wheels within wheels, big picture, that sort of thing. Harmony, easily lost, is worth more than its weight in ego. And, if you're looking for truth, you see more of it when you step back and smile.

LIBRA: Your best opportunities are professional this month. Don't worry about balance. Things flow your way and your powers of persuasion are even more acute than usual. Weild discrimination with a vengeance and cut yourself no slack. Don't spend time fretting over cooled relationships. Respond with reserve, dignity, and impeccable behavior. Switch the broadcast mode, mix it up with peers, and feed the databank. Results to be reaped very soon.

SCORPIO: No two ways about it, you're a lucky rascal this month. Timing's everything and you're on. Strut your professional stuff without stepping on the wrong wingtips. Flexibility and charm are your most powerful tools, use them. Watch for a friendship to warm to romance. The basis is firm and could involve joint projects, personal development, and the creation of something from nothing. Don't confuse self discipline with the ritual repetition of no.

SAGITTARIUS: Swimming through oatmeal, are we? Patience, focus, and honesty work whatever wonders there are. Much energy, little progress. Much optimism, little luck. Your fiscal policies may only seem rational and arguing about money is pure nitwittery. Generosity furthers. Spend time alone and probe your goal and methods for consistency. Resist all urges to bring anything to completion. The only thing harder than pushing a string is striking a match on wet soap.

CAPRICORN: Your natural bent for ruthless self interest holds you in good stead this month. What doesn't go your way stays pretty much out of it, so take the lead. Don't avoid emotional confrontations. Use them to gauge the appropriateness for your affairs. Ignore flights of fancy in yourself and others. Common sense is common because it works. Don't tell yourself something you neither need nor want, question enthusiasm, and sign nothing.

AQUARIUS: Much energy, not all of it misdirected. Feel free to play to win, do not feel free to ignore the rules. Take the initiative in matters of business and the heart. Be generous and take a refresher course in play. It'll help resolve the conflicts between short term needs and long range goals. Confidence in your own opinions could be misplaced, making this a dandy time to listen to those you trust. In doubt? Seize the moral high ground.

PISCES: Feeling a little snarly, booblah? Give yourself and your loved ones a break and go sit under a tree. Things will get better if you don't dynamite them. Or cop out on your principles. Harmony's great, as long as it doesn't mean you don't get to sing. Keep your mind and your ears open, let practical matters slide and don't rush anything. Expect rough sailing in your love life, but don't jump ship without a life jacket.
