

BLAME IT ON THE STARS

BOBBY LEE ZODIAC

Aries: Slipping along on the surface just won't get it this month. Like it or not whatever you're in is deep. The trick will be not to keep into anything that drowns your integrity. Communications of all sorts improve. Your thoughts are likely to be at least as clear as those around you. Listen to the council of others but act on your own feelings. Shared resources teach tact and compassion.

Libra: Finally, the thought processes clear. Assess issues, decide what's worth doing, and do it. Change is the ultimate constant in the equation and resistance to it is folly. The trick is to steer it. Accept responsibilities thrown to you by default. There are no accidents in the universe. There is, however, stupidity. And being blunt when you could charm circumstances is the act of a fullblown ninny looking for a fat lip. Feed your head with ideas larger than a sitcom plot and bide your time.

Taurus: Throw out all thoughts of complaining unless you burn with the desire to be the bull in your own china shop. Brooding will help nothing. So your relationships are minefields. It's not a terminal disease and no, you're not a victim of anything but karma. Mental activity, not usually your strong suit, furthers this month. Use it to plan (as opposed to plot) and to mend the tattered threads of old friendships. Do your level best to put others first.

Scorpio: Just as you suspected, folks are not being honest, either with themselves or with you. Trust your instincts. Restlessness in your career reflects a valid dissatisfaction with your position. In matters of the heart, don't confuse excitement with pleasure or passion with love. Expect significant change and prepare for it with quiet resolution. The antidote to emotional insecurity is logic. Turn a blind eye to nothing and love wisely.

Gemini: The scattered twin of your personality gives way to that preternatural charm and joie de vivre for which you're dangerously famous. This is good luck since this month could be enough to strain the patience of Job. Stop sobbing. Nothing horrendous, just nagging giggles of details to be sorted while the idiots of the world dance on your plans and schedules. Don't let them see you sweat. Tend to your garden, fix what is broken, and flirt deeply and often.

Sagittarius: Matters push you to the center stage and goals begin to coincide with the means to achieve them. Your mantra this month: we own nothing we can't give away. Think only of yourself and the universe will remind you you're not alone. Do some long, hard thinking. Face fears and desires with detached interest and empty your emotional garbage. Move ahead with plans only after checking to see you've packed everything you'll need for the trip. Trust your thoughts.

Cancer: If you're feeling self destructive, neglect your homelife or imagine that cash flow is more important than love. Speaking of which, it is a dandy month for whoopee. Practice saying yes. Admit it, boobia, your pipes need unclogging and new romance is the bathroom plunger of the soul, so to speak. Creative juices flow. Use them for anything other than analyzing your relationship to death. Talking about friendship isn't the same as having one.

Capricorn: As long as it's not involved with plotting revenge, your mind is sharp as a tack this month. Expect to use it to defuse financial time bombs. You function best in groups now and there's a good chance to broaden your circle if you behave like the social animal you're usually not. What has seemed impractical may come into its time. Being a stodgy control freak gets you worse than nowhere. Dummy up and don't take criticism personally.

Leo: My, my, my. We are a little ball of fire this month, aren't we. Just remember that warming friends is more fun than burning enemies. The residual confusion of retrograde Mercury gives ample opportunities to untie knots and rescue the hapless from themselves. Don't force issues. Work toward the common good and work backstage as much as possible. In the kingdom of the blind, the one-eyed human can be the target of jealousy. Burn slow and steadily.

Aquarius: The focus this month is on work. Don't be so in love with your methods that goals are lost. Dogs who bark too loud are ignored. They also get sore throats and lose friends. Balance your involvements and examine the relationship between what you do for money and what you do for love. If you must rebel, and you probably must, make sure you have a cause. There was only one James Dean and he's dead. Take risks only if you're sure you're not bluffing.

Virgo: A banner month for nitpickers. Focus on detail and let big pictures paint themselves. Listen intently to feedback. It's the reflection of what you're putting out. For balance, let practical matters lie in favor of having fun. You can't run on empty and an occasional romp is good for perspective. Speak your mind and sway others gently. When the world spins too fast, the smart lab rat gets off the treadmill long enough to have a nice meal and make love.

Pisces: Made a mess of our financial domain, have we? Stop whining and do something about it. There may be discrepancy between what you want to accomplish and what your abilities allow. Stop moping and acquire the tools you need. Someone questions your new project. Listen well, but, if necessary, ignore them. If your heart is good, the work succeeds. The danger involves forgetting that the real work is being human.
