

BLAME IT ON THE STARS

Aries: The game is afoot and your only real challenge this month is picking the playing field. The human comedy boils down to two plot lines: love and money. The trick is to balance what you do with who you are and then to act without lust for result. Goals are the residue of process, not its reason for being. There are no beginnings and no endings in this life, there are only middles. The middle you're in the middle of this month involves progress toward long term beginnings.

Libra: Think of May as a very physical month. Your sap rises so fast it oozes out your pores. Not just your love life, though heaven knows it could reach scandalous proportions, but your Love Life -- your intimate relationship with the energy systems around you. The joy this month is seeing the energies blend to augment each other rather than make interference patterns. The only good deal is the one where everyone leaves the table smiling. Everyone's smiling this month.

Taurus: Change, your arch enemy and best friend, drags you, giggling and flirting, into spring. The sap is rising and so is your stock in the community. Work goes swimmingly and the smoothness of your stroke has not gone unnoticed. Pleasant surprises more than make up for the loss of that stolid, earthbound inertia you often mistake for life. Welcome the unbearable lightness of being that is, as a spirit, your birthright. Buy lottery tickets.

Scorpio: Uranus comes into the kitchen and scatters the pots and pans of your home life. Change, not necessarily unpleasant, either happens or is on the way. You're feeling a tad restless. Take your Idiot out for a walk, share a candlelight dinner with someone you take for granted, get closer to something you've pushed away. A relationship gets tighter and more dimensional and you should do anything but ignore or avoid it. Simple pleasures feed you.

Gemini: Birthdays are, properly considered, solar returns. Your original cosmic tuning, your astrological software, is lit up and amplified by the sun's return to your degree of arc in the Grand Trigonometry. Whatever you are, there's more of it, and there's not a bushel basket in the universe big enough to hide it. Do what you do best, ricochet between friends, pollinating your garden with ideas. Laugh as much as you can. This may be more possible away from home.

Sagittarius: Should anyone want to trade their life for yours this month, laugh gaily and walk away. The lords of karma never sleep. Neither do they miss deadlines. The cup of your love life overflows. Not enough to embarrass you, but more than enough to make wise lovers appreciate what they have. Whatever you're doing keep on with it. You're going to feel the need to get out of whatever you're in. Make it the house for an evening of abject abandon.

Cancer: We are, in large part, defined by our work. Not our job, but our work. The investments you've made over the past year begin to pay off. Validation is the word we're looking for. Validation of our work tends to increase cash flow, a change which seldom leads to pain and sadness. The sphere of your personal universe is a warm and nurturing place this month, filled with supportive energy. In your free time, you should consider passing it on.

Capricorn: The homefront takes precedent this month. Putter, putter, putter. Your obsession with wallpaper patterns and bricabrac will drive those around you to giggles and snorts. Simply smile and go about your householding. It serves you well for the entertaining you'll be doing. Nothing elaborate or trend setting, just the intimate, well-appointed affairs you pull together as naturally as others dance. Children are teachers for you this month. Listen.

Leo: There's no sense sugarcoating things. Uranus positions itself to dropkick your status quo. Substantive stuff. What in the world you're doing with your life and who you're doing it with. Not pretty issues for Leos. Work on the good that remains and listen to your gut. The idiot monkey of the mind never answers questions, it only asks them. On the bright side, it's a great month to throw yourself into your work. Feed the energy back into your relationship.

Aquarius: Look homeward, angel. The nagging discord in your domestic scene is a reflection of changes going on with you. Once again, you're redefining yourself and your place in things. Keep channels open between yourself and your partner. Unless they know what's going on, it can seem like something they'd rather not be part of. The waves quiet later in the month, enough to entertain and be entertained. Take serious matters lightly and laugh at idiot winds of fate.

Virgo: Nothing to write home about but basically a good month. The grey matter is active, nitpicking world views and plunging into new waters. People love your body but your best tool is your mind. This month it's a real contender. If you get a chance to get out of town, take it. Wherever you're going there are lessons there and the only subject we ever really study is ourself. Whatever your work is, it goes well. Expect unexpected resolutions in your favor.

Pisces: It's not going to be the best of months but, if you play your cards right and don't buckle, you'll probably be okay. Something's rotten in the workplace. Something gaseous that exerts pressure. Only a nitwit tries to push a rope. Find a quiet, secure place in your head and live there. Busy yourself with mundane affairs, make order out of chaos and bide your time. It would be wonderful to tell you your mate will be there for you. It would be a lie.
