Jim Carrey and His Movies
 By Rob Milliron

I'm really sorry I haven't written in a while. I have been very busy with work and school. In school I had to type a 5 page epic poem. I've recently been helping out at the video store, and on top of all that I help out around the house.

Just recently me and my mother Janet Milliron wanted to do something so we went to the movies. To my mom it really didn't matter what movie we watched so I chose "Ace Ventura: When Nature Calls". Many of my friends were there and my mom asked if I wanted to go sit with them but I said no, because I was there with her and was wanting to spend time with her. You may say that's weird behavior for most teens. Well, I'm not really the average teenager; I still like to spend time with my mom and even though she has her faults I still love her.

Jim Carrey is probably one of the highest paid actors in Hollywood. He is currently dating Lauren Holly and is booked for movies for five to ten years. The current movie out by Jim is "Ace Ventura: When Nature Calls".

Jim's first movie, "Rubberface", was a pathetic 45 minute display of wanna-be slapstick comedy gone wrong. The funniest part of the movie was the overweight girl who was the main character throughout most of the movie. This movie I give a one and a half. The half is for the fat girl.

Jim's next co-starring movie was "Earth Girls Are Easy". Sounds like a slick porno movie, but no, it was a comedy starring Geena Davis and Jeff Goldblum. Jim Carrey and Damon Wayans have semi star rolls. Three aliens -- Goldblum, Carrey, and Wayans -- land their spaceship in heartbroken Geena Davis' pool. Geena plays a young manicurist whose fiancé tried to cheat on her so they broke up. The aliens are covered in colored hair. Geena takes them to her salon and her hipster friend shaves the hair off so they look human. Jim plays Wiplock, the surfer alien. This movie is a hoot from beginning to end. I give this one eight and a half points.

"Ace Ventura, Pet Detective" was Jim's most popular role. His crazy antics when saving animals are great. This movie is a spoof on James Bond, Mission Impossible, and Get Smart. Ace is hired by the Miami Dolphins to find their mascot, Snowflake the Dolphin. This movie is filled with dumb jokes, slapstick comedy and some pretty low class disgusting humor. It is a definite ten.

"Ace Ventura 2" was just a little bit over the top. It starts out with a parody of the Sylvester Stallone hit "Cliffhanger". Ace is found scaling a mountain looking for a raccoon who was in a plane crash. Ace zip-lines between two cliffs to get the raccoon but when they almost get across the raccoon's harness starts to break. To find out what happens next in the scene, go see the movie. Ace is next found in a monastery, now as a holy man. Here he becomes employed to find an African tribe's holy white bat. The rest of the movie is typical Jim Carrey humor, with lots of physical comedy and laughs. There are other Jim Carrey movies available for rent at the local video store. They are all a sure hit for the teenage crowd.

With Christmas coming, movies are a good idea for gifts and many used movies are for sale at reasonable prices at video stores. I recommend buying these movies over new ones because they are lots cheaper and there is a good selection of old favorites.

Winter is a great time to live on the coast. Take advantage of the quiet times; the tourist season will be back all too soon.
