

BLAME IT ON THE STARS

ARIES: As long as you don't butt heads with yourself, it should be a good month. Things put off are accomplished. No matter how hard you try, every time you avoid reality you short circuit. Clarity comes now from motion and change. Take what you know of yourself out for a walk. No fault, no blame. Take core samples of your psyche, avoid disagreements and new romance. Make mole hills from mountains.

LIBRA: You'll find yourself obsessing about work and health. Ride with it but cut yourself slack. Invoke equilibrium. You're not perfect, but you're also not chopped liver. Keep your wits about you and avoid nothing that needs your attention. This isn't the time for slipshod behavior and excuses involving the failings of others. Don't doubt either them or yourself. Sing in the shower whenever possible.

TAURUS: Unless you count the shouting match you're likely to get into on the full moon, March should be fun. Busy, but fun. Your social life furthers goals you didn't remember and brings gain you didn't expect. Spotlights are diverting but the real work can be behind the scenes. Avoid your usual lapses into belligerence and power pouts, accept matters and people as they are, leap into nothing but bed.

SCORPIO: A typical Scorpio month: power, lust, and productive turmoil. Your juices are, for better or worse, flowing. Better, if used to strengthen and deepen relationships. Worse, if you forget to play nice. The other side of decay is regeneration and that's the side you should be on. The other side of pleasure is pain. Cause none and the winds of karma blow sweeter. If you would be first, be last.

GEMINI: The slow motion sturm and drang congeals into direction and progress. The arena is your business and professional life and your mission is to take it to the hoop. One mustn't be an idiot, but the ducks of your work karma are in a row. Give voice to your dreams, invoke substance, and court patrons with pride and clarity. Resist the petty, eschew the half-baked, and bring gifts of attention to your family.

SAGITTARIUS: Your centaur nature aside, there'll be little time for cantering through mythic forests, nymphs and maenads luring you to heaven knows what. Your concerns this month are domestic, happily so. Tend your garden well. The nice thing about the grail is that it hides in plain sight. The lantern you carry is a bright one, hold it high enough to see the future. Provoke nothing, embrace everything.

CANCER: Your trademark brooding gives way to inner and outer voyages. Mind over emotion, restraint over impulse. Possibilities for minor explosions abound, especially with relatives vile and various. Explore first principles, consider higher goals, and argue about neither with anyone. Ignore the urge to flirt, especially with fate. Your moon is full, your tide's coming in, and your eyes should be on the horizon.

CAPRICORN: The sap is rising. Ideas are brought to fruit, meetings are taken, proposals are accepted. Speak your mind with confidence, look to the engines that drive you, listen closely to the wind. Serious matters demand serious consideration but nothing's gained by giving yourself a migraine. It's all unfolding nicely and, unless you mess up badly, look forward to what karmic nonbelievers call good luck.

LEO: Time to get down to business, literally. Embrace the mundane and the monetary like a new lover, balance the books, pay what you owe. This is the ritual known as 'preparing the vessel'. Those who want nothing have everything. Pay impeccable attention to niggling details, look truth in the face, and take monkish delight in frugality. Keep the faith. Your rewards, substantial ones, are in the mail.

AQUARIUS: It's your economy, stupid. Money's not the root of evil, it's a way of keeping score. The root of evil is ignorance. Keep your wits about you and you score well this month. Events arrange themselves around financial opportunities. Recognize old habits, climb out of ruts, walk new paths. Loaf not, want not.

VIRGO: The crops come in, the harvest is good, there's dancing in the villages. Much ado with alliances, emotional and professional. If there's an urge to stay home, ignore it, along with urges to demand perfection, get in a snit, and dynamite foundations. A time of building. Listen to the counsel of those you respect and gaze into familiar eyes. Your cup is filled. Say thank you to the water bearer.

PISCES: Up and at 'em, tiger, change is afoot. If you don't approach the world like a rabbit, it won't eat you. Face facts, let no one see you sweat, grab problems by the lapels. Intuition gets you nowhere now so use your head. Look new ventures in the eye and be aware of the impression you make. Avoid your talents for being snotty and unsatisfied, exercise authority wisely, make love more.
