A Vision of Communalism

By Natalie Fraver

This is the life we have chosen
We don't have much, but we have enough
We have everything we've ever wanted
Everyone has everything they need
Never a day goes by when there is hunger
Never a day goes by when there is no shelter
Never a day goes by where there is untreated illness
We know what matters

This is the life we have chosen
We are never alone in our pain
We celebrate life and death as one
Our community thrives on love and support
If ever anyone is in need we all join to give what we can
Living simply allows space for spiritual flourish
No one is ever shamed
We know what matters

This is the life we have chosen
We find great strength in simplicity
We have built solidarity through class consciousness
Our community thrives on mutuality
Why would we sell our souls for material gain?
That which truly matters cannot be bought
We know what matters
We are all connected
