

The End is Not Near

by Michone Nettles

There is no wetness without moisture or water.
The world is not broken down in parts.

People separate and divide the planet.
Run fast then stop and rest.

The bleeding wound heals itself when blood dries.
Our shadows catch up with us as we run ahead.

Overhead, sun hits the top of our heads and sends warmth throughout.

The pain inside turns into a smile.
The reflection of what I would like in return.

Boundaries don't block the way.
Our minds created borders that don't exist.

I'm not trying to be anything
I'm not trying to do anything.
I am who I am
I am what I am.
It's not always good,
And always not easy.
