

Waterfront Mission, 1986

by Outlaw X

Thirty years ago I had a car to live in and I was given
Just a little more time heal my fractured head
The injury was real, and I could be dead
But given a second chance, and a few cells
Left to think about some things instead.

At the waterfront mission in Mobile
A strong stirring made me feel that I'd been told to give my last twenty dollars
To the man who opened the door
I said "God Bless You" and he said "Thank you"
I drove away hungry and poor

Thirty years later I have no car but a pack full of gear
And a strong enough back to carry my home through the woods and street
And I was taking a rest by the church one day
A couple walk by with nothing to say but God Bless you
And handed my twenty dollars and I said "Thank You"
