

"I get to watch my grand-kids play basketball or band concerts. You probably know that grandparents have a small window of time where you get the open arms 'grandma!'" before they turn into teenagers and that sort of tames down. Because I have an affordable place to live, I can spend time with them and now we are close."

- Maggie Dietz, Rosemont Court resident

Our seniors should be able to afford housing, and still have enough money for groceries and necessities. But Portland's skyrocketing rents are making that impossible for too many.

Measure 26-179 will help Portland remain a place where people can afford to live.
