

"My name is Lenny and I've been living in a pickup truck. I help pay the rent and the lights and the gas for my grandchildren and their parents. I bring them tons of food, clothing, all kinds of stuff for the children. And so even though I have a job and am of the age of social security, there's not enough money for me. Those little babies are more important than me having an apartment. They are. They know there's food on the table and there's a bed and a roof over their heads. And they're not cold. That's why I'm homeless."

Our seniors should be able to afford housing, and still have enough money for groceries and necessities. But Portland's skyrocketing rents are making that impossible for too many.

Measure 26-179 will help Portland remain a place where people can afford to live.
