

IN AND OUT OF INSANITY

by Leo Rhodes

When I was younger
I didn't choose my world
My world chose me

In a crazy world
Too young to fight back Others fought for me Saving me many times

Years later
Choosing my own destination
I chose the road less traveled My world turned into Fight or flight mode

It soon became a game to me
A game of win or lose Losing meant death
Winning meant Life
I chose the latter

I didn't care about the Consequences
Of the game
Survival was priority

Deeper, and deeper
I got into the game
The more I wanted out

Seeking help
Most didn't understand
The Game Or Maybe
It was me
In my confused state of mind
The humanity of it all ...

"Checking out our President"

by Avendor

Donald Trump is an alpha male wannabe all of his policies and decisions as president seem like an attempt, to portray himself as such.
A modern conservative cowboy persona that is not rooted in commonly accepted morality, or Christian servitude.
He could start a war almost all of the wise men of the world oppose, to present himself as such.
Repent/change
and maybe we will forgive him, continue as he is then for everyone's sake, I think he should be removed from office.

Evasive Invasion

by Shaggy

Storms of incoherence Intentions meet interference Waves of trepidation Predicaments we're faced with Stem from complications
Of laws made by nations Affecting ramifications
For massive populations
How can we change our destination Tragic fates that lie ahead
We have to find a negotiation Before our dreams die instead
