ADVANCE OF JAMIESON

British Commissioner Has Reached Johannesburg.

A CONFLICT EXPECTED SOON

At Johannesburg for the Transvaal, It Is Said, Will Meet With the Chartered South African Company.

London, Jan. 2.—The Globe this evening says a rumor has reached London that Dr. Jamieson has arrived at Johannesburg. It is also stated that President Kruger has telegraphed to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain pleading his government that the Boers should temporarily adopt a passive attitude toward Dr. Jamieson's force on the arrival outside of Johannesburg. An important feature of the arrangement between Mr. Chamberlain and President Kruger is that all responsibility for hostilities will rest with the chartered South African Company.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—A cable dispatch received from Pretoria says a rising has occurred at Johannesburg. It is added that 200 more armed men belonging to the British chartered company have crossed the frontier, and that President Kruger is determined to defend the invaders by force of arms. A conflict between the Boers and English is expected tomorrow.

FATE OF THE ELWOOD.

The News of Her Wreck in Alaska Was Received.

Seattle, Jan. 2.—The schooner Elwood, Captain E. E. Wyman, is the worst wreck in Alaska. It is the worst wreck of a shipwreck to reach Seattle for a year. One sailor was drowned and the remainder of the crew only reached shore after one of the bravest fights against the elements that has been recorded in the annals of the Northwest coast.

The steamship Topoka, arriving this morning from the North, brought the sad news of the disaster. Captain Wyman and four sailors came down on the Topoka, while the others remained in Alaska.

The Elwood left Seattle September 11 for Kodiak and Cook's Inlet. The vessel struck at Gardiner's point during a gale at 9 o'clock in the morning, two months after leaving Seattle, and began heaving up immediately. The crew made a desperate effort to reach shore, avoiding the rocks, jutting rocks and wild headland.

The first boat let down was smashed, and the second boat was worked away and swamped. Adrian F. Gorton, a Swedish sailor, was washed away and drowned. One seaman started to swim ashore and was about to give up when he seized a piece of wreckage and pulled ashore. The captain and rest of the crew finally reached shore by clinging to the wreckage. The story of hardship and peril is a heartrending one.

A COMMISSION OF FIVE.

The Gentlemen Who Will Investigate the Venezuela Dispute.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Cleveland today announced the appointment of the Venezuela boundary commission as follows: David J. Brewer, of Kansas, "associate justice of the United States supreme court; Richard H. Alvey, of Maryland, chief justice of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia; Andrew D. White, of New York; Frederic R. Conant, of New York; and Daniel C. Gilman, of Maryland.

The commission is regarded here, among those who had an opportunity to see the list of names after they were made public, as a very satisfactory one, whose opinions and conclusions will be received by the American public with confidence which the nature of the commission in the public eye inspires.

Beaver and White are Republicans, and Alvey and Conant Democrats, while Gilman has never signed prominently in politics. At the White House it is stated that he has no politics, but his proclivities are understood to be Republican. Thus both parties, it will be seen, are equally represented on the commission, with the fifth member having no outspoken policy. All will accept the places to which they have been appointed.

THE CONTRACT SIGNED.

Read Sympathetic to New Ready to Take the Government Loan.

New York, Jan. 2.—The contract has been signed by all the members of the new bond syndicate, subject to the formal acceptance of the government. The syndicate agrees to furnish 11,000,000 ounces of gold, amounting to about $200,000,000 in gold, the government to take half of this sum first, and to have the option of taking the other half and deliver 4 per cent 30-year gold bonds at about the same price as paid for the last time of bonds. The members of the syndicate are to receive a commission of 1 per cent. The price at which the last bonds were sold was 104.49, at which they yielded 3 1/2 per cent interest.

The Outlook in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 2.—The Examiner today prints interviews with nearly every prominent business man in that city, and the outlook for 1924. All agree that 1923 was a great improvement over 1922. Merchants are looking forward to better times this year than they have experienced since the panic of 1921.

Another Chinaman Beheaded.

Berlin, Jan. 2.—A dispatch from Swatow, province of Guangdong, China, says the ringleader of the mob which plundered the German mission at Hailin has been beheaded.

Master's Candidate Announced.

New York, Jan. 2.—Ex-Senator Miller said tonight that Governor Miller had authorized his friends to make that he has consented to become a candidate for president of the United States.

PORTLAND MARKETS.

The most important change in the market was an advance of 1/2¢ in all grades of sugar. This advance was due to a shortage of sugar in the territory and special points. The market continues very firm, with an upward tendency. There are no other changes in groceries. Produce trade is slow. The poultry demand is not up to the requirements. Eggs came in more freely today than on any day, though unchanged in price.
