Great enthusiasm was manifested in Athens, Greece, during the fetes organized to celebrate the anniversary of the declaration of Greece from Turkish rule. The scenes throughout the day, although very brilliant, were lacking in the usual imposing military display, on account of the large number of troops sent to the frontier. The absence of pleasant exchange between the people here was also in striking contrast with other years. Otherwise the usual customs were followed.

Miss Hoyt had assisted Mrs. Varney in her household duties and the Varney family had been very kind to her. When asked why she burned the house, she said she could not help it. An irresistible impulse came upon her, and she held a lighted candle to the wallpaper until it ignited. She is now suspected of firing a number of barns that have been destroyed recently, but she will not admit that she is guilty.

RIVERA WILL NOT BE SHOT.

Spanish Minister Says His Execution Was Never Contemplated.

Washington, April 12.—Advice received by the Spanish minister states that General Rivera, who is lying wounded near Havana, is not in a serious condition, and that his wounds are not likely to prove fatal. Inquiry as to the status of the prisoner elicited a statement by the minister to the effect that at no time has the Spanish government or General Weyler had any idea of shooting Rivera.

Havana, April 12.—General Ruiz Rivera remains at San Cristobal. He is recovering from his wounds. In the event of a summary trial, it is not likely he will be sentenced, but he will be held as a prisoner of war.

A Rumor That Rivera Was Freed.

Key West, April 12.—News was received last night that the Cuban insurgents had made an attack on the train upon which General Rivera was being taken from San Cristobal to Havana. Reports say the insurgents were successful in their attack, and that Rivera was freed. It is impossible to get a confirmation or denial of the report as yet, but the Cuban sympathizers here believe it to be true and are accordingly jubilant.

BRYAN WAS HURT.

Piazza From Which He Was Speaking Fell—Injured Not Serious.

St. Augustine, Fla., April 12.—Hon. William Jennings Bryan was injured here this evening by the falling in of the piazza from which he was speaking. Nearly 400 men and women were precipitated about twenty feet to the ground, and many of them were injured, but none fatally. Mr. Bryan was picked up unconscious, and removed to a physician's office, where an examination revealed that he had received no injuries of a serious character. It was deemed best, however, to abandon the reception to have been given this evening.

Mr. Bryan arrived at 5:50 P. M., and was greeted by several hundred people. At 8:30 he addressed fully 8,000 people from the piazza of the San Marco hotel. At the close of the speech hundreds of people flocked about him, and the strain was so great that one section of the piazza forty feet square fell through.

Only One Bid Received.

Washington, April 12.—The navy department received today but one bid in answer to an advertisement calling for proposals for supplying 8,000 tons of armor for three battle-ships, the Illinois, Wisconsin and Alabama, and it was irregular in form. It came from the Illinois Steel Company of Chicago, and proposed to supply 8,000 tons of armor at $280 a ton, on condition it be given a 20-year contract to supply all armor. In such case the remainder of the armor would be supplied at $240 a ton, the armor to be paid for in gold coin.

An alternative proposition, contemplated the erection of an armor plant by the government and its supply with steel by the Illinois company. No award was made, and the whole matter will probably be referred to congress.

An American Has the Contract.

Havana, April 12.—Michael J. Daly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has secured an important contract to improve the sanitary condition of Havana. It is said the contract will involve an expenditure of about $15,000,000. Work will be begun next winter, and it will give immediate employment to from 4,000 to 6,000 men on sewers and piers, and all the preliminaries of the agreement have been decided upon, and it is reported that Mr. Daly has as security bonds issued by the city of Havana to the amount of $12,000,000. Mr. Daly is now here with his engineer, Mr. Byrne, and the papers are to be sent to Captain-General Weyler for his approval.

Mailcarriers A-Wheel.

Oakland, Cal., April 12.—The post-office at Fifteenth and Broadway will soon be headquarters for the most considerable and energetic cycling club in the city, for the mailcarriers are to ride wheels.

The equipping with wheels of Oakland's mail delivery service means more than would appear at first. It means possibly another collection and distribution of mail matter each day, and a consequent improvement of the general service. The hours of each carrier will be shortened and he will be supposed to make good time.

It is possible that the territories of the men will be extended, but this does not mean a cutting down in service, rather an enlargement, as the postmaster would be enabled to extend his routes and reach much further from the heart of the city.

Palmer Got a Verdict.

Canton, O., April 12.—Tyndale Palmer was yesterday given a verdict by a jury in the court of common pleas for $10,000 in a libel suit against the Evening Repository. THE SEALING PROBLEM

What the Recent Presidential Appointments Indicate.

GRAVITY OF THE SITUATION

Possibility of a Serious Entanglement Unless Matter Is Arranged Before the Session Opens.

Washington, April 12.—The recent appointment of ex-Secretary Foster and ex-Assistant Secretary Hamlin by the president to assist in the negotiations now in progress with Great Britain respecting the Behring sea fisheries is indicative that this long-standing diplomatic issue has at last assumed grave importance, and that an earnest effort is being made to end the present unsatisfactory state of affairs or to place the subject on such a footing before the beginning of the approaching session as will prevent it from passing into a more serious phase.

The diplomatic correspondence of the past year makes it evident that a severe strain was placed upon the patience of the officials of both the United States and Great Britain, and the warning given quietly but firmly by the British premier, that further proceedings by American revenue cutters in the line of last year's programme would not be tolerated, and the intimation from Secretary Olney that there would be no change unless additional restrictions were imposed upon the British sealing vessels, held out latent possibilities of a serious entanglement for the two friendly powers, unless some arrangement can be made before the end of May. Because of ex-Secretary Foster's familiarity with the early stage of the negotiations that led up to the Paris tribunal, and ex-Secretary Hamlin's conduct of the negotiations of the last administration, they have been chosen to assist now in composing this threatened difficulty.

The trouble appears to have begun principally through the refusal of the British authorities to renew last year's regulations requiring British vessels going into the seal waters to place their firearms under seal, to give effect to the Paris regulation, prohibiting the use of such weapons in killing seals. This regulation was laid down on evidence that a large proportion of the seals killed with guns sank and were never recovered, involving wasteful mortality. The British having refused to seal up their arms, the United States adopted the plan of making a most thorough search of every sealing vessel in Behring sea. There was justification for a search in the regulations, but again the British government protested, claiming that British vessels were thereby subjected to unnecessary and most vexatious detentions, and that their catches were overhauled and thrown into confusion, and that the only result was the discovery of one skin, in which an American boarding officer thought he saw a shot wound, and of a log-book a few hours in arrears in entries. Yet for this twenty-six out of twenty-nine British vessels in the seal waters were searched eighty-two times, and one boarded six times in twenty-four days.

Secretary Olney, on the other hand, justified the course of the revenue officers by pointing out that all three of the seized vessels were convicted in British courts. He also gave some startling figures to show the need of additional restrictive regulations, which he invited the British government to accept. From actual count he showed that in 1895 less than 28,000 dead seal pups were found on starvation, which had perished from starvation because their mothers had been killed at sea by sealing vessels. It was also stated that in the same season the vessels had taken 44,195 skins, as against 31,585 in the previous year, and Secretary Olney asserted that, if the killing was to go on at this rate, the total destruction of the seal herd would be accomplished in the course of two more seasons. To make the showing worse from our point of view, it was stated that the lawful catch of the seals, which had largely fallen off. Efforts were made to devise a way of insuring the seals against the use of firearms by poachers, but they came to nothing, and the upshot was that both sides stood firm, the British warning against further indiscriminate search of British vessels, and Secretary Olney standing on our rights to make it.

Meanwhile an expert commission sent out by both governments made an exhaustive report tending to sustain Secretary Olney's assertions regarding the probable extermination of the seal under present conditions, and it must be upon this basis that negotiations will now proceed.

Clemency Promised for Rivera.

Washington, April 12.—Secretary of State Sherman stated that he had assurances that General Rivera, the insurgent leader, would not be executed but would be treated as a prisoner of war. General Rivera was captured after being wounded in a recent battle, and it was feared for a time that he would be executed by the Spanish authorities for his participation in the rebellion.

Denver, April 12.—A news special from Cheyenne, Wyo., says two 10-inch 110-ton cannon passed through Cheyenne today, en route for San Francisco, where they will be used to strengthen the coast defense. The big guns were each mounted on an eight-truck steel car, and were sent over the Sherman hill this afternoon.

PRUNING THE ITEMS.

Progress of the Senate Committee With the Tariff Bill.

Washington, April 12.—The Republican senators who are acting as a subcommittee of the senate committee on finance in the preparation of the tariff bill are inclined to postpone the date of presentation of the bill to the senate a little beyond the limit originally fixed by them. They express the opinion that it may be two weeks from the present time before it will be in shape to be reported.

The committee is making satisfactory progress with the bill, and many of the schedules have received final attention, among them being chemicals and cottons. None of the more puzzling questions, however, have been disposed of. The committee has deemed it wisest to leave the rates on wool, sugar, hides, coal, lead, ore, lumber and all the other important subjects until the simpler matters can be determined. They take the position that they can settle the disputed points more satisfactorily after the other features of the bill are thoroughly digested and the probable revenue determined. Many of the smaller items according to them have been decided upon.

While no detailed information can be secured, it is understood many reductions have been made. The disposition of the committee is to make a quite general reduction, but this is found to be a task not easy to accomplish, because of the insistence of senators upon having a high duty for articles in which they are interested. There are indeed many demands for increase, and some of these are so pressing that members of the committee have been considerably embarrassed between the desire to reduce the duties and the fact that the success of the bill and their conviction that the interest of the party demand reduction rather than increase.

FIGHTING HAS BEGUN.

Greek Irregulars Crossed the Frontier and Attacked Turks.

Elassona, Macedonia, April 12.—Bands of Greek brigands have entered Turkey at Krania, in the vicinity of Gervno. Turkish troops have been engaged with them and fighting has been proceeding since 5 o'clock this morning. At Turkish headquarters the news is looked upon as of the gravest description in view of the excitement here. The Greek irregulars have sent orders to have everything in readiness for an advance of the Turkish army in force.

A dispatch received at Turkish headquarters here from Gervno says the fighting between Greeks and Turks continues. The Turks, following out the instructions of Edhem Pasha, have surrounded the Greek irregulars, and the greater part of the Turkish division stationed at Gervno is now advancing. It is impossible to distinguish whether the invaders are supported by any substantial portion of the Greek army, but the correspondent is informed that the presence of uniforms of Greek regulars in the ranks of the aggressors, Edhem Pasha will order an advance of the entire Turkish army. The situation is not serious.

NOT ON THE MARKET.

Public Lands in Washington Withdrawn From Sale.

Olympia, Wash., April 12.—The board of state land commissioners made one of the most important orders today ever issued by that body. It is to withdraw from sale all state-granted, school or other lands. Henceforth all applications for purchase of the public lands of the state will be rejected, and special deposits already received returned. This does not apply to the purchase of timber and material on state lands, nor to such applications as have prior rights under existing laws to purchase tide lands.

The reason for this step is said to be that to sell now, in the present financial stringency, would be to take the lowest price ever likely to be offered, thus defeating the objects for which the several grants were made to the state. The commissioner of public lands is ordered to lease all these lands possible to permanent occupants and improve to the fullest extent permitted under existing laws.

Sherman Pigeonholed It.

Washington, April 12.—The senate resolution protesting against summary proceedings by the Spanish officials in Cuba against the captive insurgent leader, Rivera, has reached the state department, through the White House. Secretary Sherman, regarding it as merely declaratory of the sense of the senate, and offered in an advisory spirit, has filed it away, and is not likely to carry out its suggestions and lodge a protest with the Spanish government, particularly in view of the information he has received that Rivera is not to be shot.

Will Charter a Merchant Ship.

Washington, April 12.—In execution of the act of congress authorizing the secretary of the navy to transport contributions for the suffering people in India, Secretary Long has taken steps to procure immediately a ship or ships to immediately transport the contributions from the merchant marine. No naval vessel is available for this purpose.

The driver, Peter Roy, was also seriously cut. Hanbrick was 28 years of age today.

At the point where the Mississippi river flows out of Lake Itasca it is only ten feet wide and eighteen inches deep.

THE ASIATIC TRADE

Hill Says He Is Building It Up and Wants to Keep It.

AIDED BY LOW TRANSPORTATION

New Outlet Makes a Higher Price for Pacific Coast Grain—Wants Tariff Made to Fit It.

Washington, April 12.—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railroad, and also interested largely in transportation to the Orient, has written a letter to a Western senator in which he points out the possibilities of trade in China and Japan, and suggests that tariff duties be so adjusted as not to prevent trade with the countries across the Pacific.

President Hill says: "The Asiatic trade of the greatest importance to this country, and particularly to such portions of it as are interested in raising wheat. A year ago last fall wheat sold for 18 to 22 cents per bushel in the Palouse country, south of Spokane, and this year it has sold for 65 to 70 cents. About three years ago I sent an agent to China and Japan to investigate thoroughly what steps could be taken to introduce the general use of wheat and flour in those countries, against their own rice, and found it simply a matter of price. I then took up the consideration of building steamers for that trade, designed to carry cargoes of flour and grain at low rates. I found that we could build the ships, but, owing to the sailors' union fixing the wages of sailors at $30 a month, and engineers and other ship employees at about twice the wages paid by European steamers, it was impossible for us to compete with the English, German, Italian and Scandinavian sailing fleets. The Japanese used the war with China, the Japanese used a large amount of their war indemnity for a subsidy to their merchant marine, and we opened negotiations with the General Steamship Company, of Japan, which is owned by leading men of the empire. We found their subsidy was about equal to the cost of their coal and the wages of their sailors. They pay their sailors $5 a month Mexican, or $2.50 in gold, enabling them to hire twelve good sailors for the wages of one American sailor. After some protracted and difficult negotiations, we concluded a contract with them for a line of steamers between Chinese and Japanese ports and Seattle, on condition that they would carry flour from Puget sound to Asiatic ports at $3 a ton, against from $7 to $8 a ton formerly charged from West coast ports in the United States. The low rates fixed the rate for all lines between the Pacific coast and Asia, and has resulted in carrying out about 25,000,000 bushels, or its equivalent in flour, from the last crop. There is left about 5,000,000 bushels between now and their harvest."

"Thus you will see we have been able to find new months which have never before used wheat bread, to take the entire California, Oregon and Washington wheat crop out of the European markets. This will reduce the amount going to Europe about 30 per cent, and is three times the quantity shipped to Europe from Argentina during the past year. The price of wheat this year, as compared with last is 30 to 35 cents higher, and I think it may be said that from 15 to 18 cents of this rise is clearly due to the withdrawal of the Pacific wheat from the European markets. I see in this morning's reports a telegram that European ships are loading with barley, rye and merchandise from San Francisco for Europe, after waiting months for cargoes of wheat, and that no more wheat will go to Europe from the Pacific coast. "The only way we could bring about this reduction in the transportation of flour to Asia was by diverting the tea and matting business, which has heretofore gone mainly on English ships, from Asia direct to New York, and carrying these commodities to the Pacific coast, by a low rate, and transporting inland by rail, to distribute the commodities to points between Minnesota and New York."

"I have given you the facts, so you will understand the situation and be able to see that, unless these ships can bring their main cargoes of merchandise to the Pacific ports at rates that will compensate them for the traffic, the business must go as heretofore, to New York, and the rates on flour to Asiatic ports will be again at the old figure, or at an advance of about 50 cents a barrel, which would, in my judgment, destroy the business that has just been built up with that country. The province of Amoy alone, which is near the coast, contains over 80,000 people, and, at 20 pounds of flour per capita per annum, would consume the product of 40,000,000 bushels of wheat. The large districts of Tientsin and Shanghai, both within easy reach of the sea, would consume about as much more as soon as the trade could be fully opened. It is not outside the range of possibility to say that we could ship wheat at Devil's Lake or points west, as long as the demand for flour continues to grow as it has for the past six months."

There are over 2,000 miles of railways in operation in Japan.

Wealthy Woman's Sudden Death.

Tried to Stop a Runaway.

San Francisco, April 12.—William Hanbrick, engineer of the Golden Gate park water works, met with a sudden death this afternoon while attempting to stop a runaway horse. He jumped at the animal's head as it approached him, evidently intending to grasp the bridle, but misjudging the speed at which it was moving and struck violently either by the shaft of the cart or the wheel, and his brains were dashed out. The driver, Peter Roy, was also seriously cut. Hanbrick was 28 years of age today.

SITUATION NO WORSE.

Report From the Mississippi Flood-Stricken District.

Memphis, April 12.—Notwithstanding the high winds and heavy rain storms reported from the overflowed Mississippi delta last night, the situation in the flood-stricken district is certainly no worse, if not better tonight. The water which has been pouring through five big crevasses for more than a week is rapidly flowing into the Mississippi again, at a point twelve miles north of Vicksburg, and is sweeping southward with terrible force. The strain on the Louisiana levees will be something terrific for a week, and if they withstand that length of time, all will be well.

The Sunflower river is also on a rampage tonight. Two-thirds of the water from the Flower lake crevasse is rushing into this stream, and a large area will be inundated from the overflow. The Tallahatchie and Coldwater rivers are gradually falling. At Helena, the river is slowly falling, and indications are that the big stream will continue to decline. The waters below the Arkansas-Midland levee are at a standstill tonight.

The number of refugees is increasing at Helena almost hourly. The steamer at Helena arrived there late this afternoon with more than 160 flood sufferers, swelling the list there to 3,000. At Roseville nothing of special interest has occurred in the situation. After the stormy night that caused buildings to rock and sway like boughs of trees, the sun came out bright and clear in that section today but a cold north wind is blowing. In the Bogie Phalia country, much suffering is reported. The Roseville relief committee will visit that section tomorrow and distribute provisions.

At Greenville, the situation has not changed. All the levees along the Mississippi front safely withstood the storm of last night. At Memphis, the river continues to fall, a decline of one-tenth of a foot being reported by the weather bureau tonight.

The railroads, with one exception, are again open for business and in good shape, and all trains are being run on schedule time.

THE POSTAL CONGRESS.

Corcoran Art Gallery Building Leased for the Purpose.

Washington, April 12.—The post office department has leased the old Corcoran art gallery building, on Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, for the use of the postal congress, which is to assemble May 5. It is expected the congress will be in session six or eight weeks. The entire building will be fitted and furnished expressly for the congress.

The union embraces the whole world excepting the Chinese empire, Corea and the Orange Free State. These latter countries are expected to join the union during this congress, and will be represented by delegates. Each nation can send as many delegates as it desires, but will have but one vote.

The convention will be held with closed doors, and the proceedings will be in French, according to the usual custom.

Cyclone in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., April 12.—A special to the Advertiser from Ozark, Ala., says:

A cyclone passed over a portion of Dale county last night, leaving wreck and disaster in its path. Many houses were demolished. Mrs. Powers was caught by the falling timber of her home, and died before she could be rescued. The rest of the family were rescued. This is the only fatality reported. For many miles the farmers are suffering, everything they had been swept away by the wind or ruined by the torrents of rain. The citizens of Ozark have sent several wagonloads of supplies to those in need.

The Treaty Ratified.

Washington, April 12.—Confirmation of the reported ratification by the Venezuela congress of the arbitration treaty has come to the state department from United States Minister Thomas, at Caracas, in the following cablegram, dated yesterday:

"Treaty was ratified by congress yesterday."

While the treaty provides that ratification may be exchanged either in London or Washington, officials of the state department believe the ceremony will take place in London, as it will thus serve the purpose of initiating the restoration of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela, after a suspension of more than ten years.

American Money for Nurses in Crete.

Chicago, April 12.—Lady Henry Somerset has called Miss Frances Willard, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, asking for $1,500 to be spent for the White Ribbon nurses in Crete. Miss Willard called her consent, "feeling it is all in the cause of suffering Christians slain by Moslem swords, and the hideousness of the situation is incalculably magnified because English bullets are helping on the slaughter of Christians."

Key West, April 12.—While lowering a boat today from the cruiser Marblehead, the davits broke, and three sailors were thrown into the sea. Two were drowned.

After a Woman Horsethief.

Culfax, Wash., April 12.—The sheriff is scouring the country in search of a female horsethief and incendiary. The woman is Mrs. Jane McDonald, 50 years of age. She ran away from the post farm and returned to Sumner a former haunt of her family. Here she is reported to have set fire to two stacks of hay, the property of farmers she imagined had wronged her or her children. Later, she stole a horse from Farmer Elder and left.

Protest From Americans in Paris.
