There appears to be general dissatisfaction as to the manner in which the murder of George Sager has been treated by the authorities. After a long deleay of apparent 'do nothing,' by the proper officer, two young men who were suspected from the first, were arrested. and given a trial, but it appears that the court could not gain evidence enough to hold the young men, and they were released from custody. Those who visited the premises, and some who were present at the inquest, insist that a shrewd detective would soon be able to ferret out the perpetrators of the crime. It is the general expression that by letting the criminals escape without punishment, that the county encourages crime, and apparently invite criminals here. It is true Mr. Sager was an obscure and poor resident of the county, but he was human, and inoffensive, and the murder of any human should be avenged. We have officers whose duty it is to look after these matters. If not, what are they paid for? In individual law matters, costs are generally piled un against defendants without any compunctions of consciences.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Gents:—From my personal knowledge, gained in observing the effect of your Shiloh's Cure in cases of advanced consumption I am prepared to say it is the most remarkable remedy that has

About 7:30 on Monday night the barn and contents on the Stuart property, across the alley from the Dayton hotel was burnt to the ground. Robert Earl who is living with his family, in Mrs. Stuart's house, had put up a temporary smoke house in one corner of the wood shed, which adjoined the barn. A fire had been used during the day in the smoke house to dry some meat. Between 3 and 4 o'clock Mr. Earl, as he thought, put out the fire. It is probable that he overlooked a smouldering coal, which afterwards started the blaze. There was in the smoke house, belonging to Mr. Earl, near 500 pounds of bacon, and in the wood shed between 3 and 4 cords of good dry wood, which burned like tinder. In a few moments the flames had reached the barn, and with difficulty those who first arrived at the fire, took a cow belonging to Earl from the barn. This was the only thing saved. Loss probably, $200. No insurance. Fortunately for Mr. Riley, proprietor of the Dayton hotel, which was directly across the alley from the fire, the wind was blowing from the south and carried the flames from the hotel, thus not endangering the hotel to the exten: had the wind been in the opposite direction; when the probability is that the hotel building could not have been saved from destruction. When the alarm was given Mr. Earl and family were at home, and went to the front door to see where the fire was; seeing every one running toward their premises they went to the back part of the house when they discovered where the fire was. The house being lower than the barn the sparks were mostly blown over the building, but it required watchfulness and work to save the house.

A WARNING.—The parties that pulled the pickets from the fence of the M. E. parsonage, and the fence in front of the Catholic property, on Saturday night, Jan. 15, 1898, will save cost and trouble by nailing them on immediately, or paying for the same. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Young man, you will find that indulegence in intoxicating liquors, especially to become intoxicated thereby, 'don't pay,' and almost invariably leads you into trouble and disgrace. 'Look not upon the wine when it is red.' 'Touch not taste not,' are good mottoes, if carried out.

Mrs. Mary Bird, Harrisburg, Pa., says: 'My child is worth millions to me; yet I would have lost her by croup had I not invested 25 cents in a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure.' It cures coughs, colds, and all throat and lung troubles. R. L Harris.

The memorial services of the A. O. U. W. held in their hall on Tuesday eve, Jan. 18th, was very impressive and appropriate. The services began by singing the opening ode of the Workmen by choir and audience, followed by introductory remarks by the Master Workman, J. E. Mellinger, and prayer by Past Master, Bird Parish; 'Rock of Ages' was then sung by choir and audience. Miss Weisa Bertram then gave a recitation of the 'Two Angles'; followed by a select piece by choir. Rev. Bro. Lee of the M. E. church, was then introduced, and gave a very impressive and instructive memorial sermon. The choir then rendered a very pretty piece of select music. The audience was then requested to arise, and Miss Ora Mellinger was called on to close the meeting with prayer, which she did very beautifully by reciting the 'Lord's Prayer,' as follows:

'Our Father, who in heaven art,'
And every where beside,
To Thee I'll ever lift my heart,
Whatever may betide.

'Thy name, forever, hallowed be,'
By all the sons of men,
May all unite in praising Thee,
Until all time shall end,

Thy kingdom come,' o'er all the earth,
O'er every human soul,
Till all of high or humble birth,
Acknowledge Thy control.

Thy will be done,' from sea to sea,
From mountain top to shore,
'Til all submit their ways to Thee,
In peace forevermore.

'Thy will be done on earth' below,
As now above in heaven,
That every child in earth may know,
The peace to angels given.

'Give us this day our daily bread,'
For body and for soul,
That we may be in all things fed.
And Thou our lives control.

'Forgive our sins, as we forgive,'
All those who do us wrong,
As Thou forgivest, may we live,
Forgiving all day long.

'Lead us not into temptation,'
But keep us pure and strong,
Thus to live in every station,
Opposed to every wrong.

'Deliver us from evil,' thoughts,
That lead our hearts astray,
Which, ever present, though unsought,
Would steal our faith away.

For 'Thine is the kingdom,' forever.
'The power,' subduing earth.
Be 'Thine the glory' forever,
In Thee all life had birth.

Too much praise cannot be given to the members of Harmony lodge for the amount of zeal and interest they have taken in so beautifully draping and decorating their hall for the occasion. Two vacant chairs—one for Father Upchurch, and one for Sister Lowe,—were neatly and appropriately draped.

The following verses were wrote on the death of Nathan Bradley, sr., by a lady friend of the family:

Sweet spring will visit hill and plain,
And summer flowers will bloom,
But father will not come again,
He slumbers in the tomb.

He bid his dearest friends adieu,
No more we'll hear his voice,
His lonely grave is all we view,
Since he is dead and gone.

No more around our fireside,
His smiling face we'll meet,
It makes us very sorrowful,
To see this vacant seat.

Oh! where is father's spirit now?
What garments does he wear?
Is he with God around the throne,
And in pure heaven's air?

Say, is he in that heavenly land,
And will he ne'er grow old?
And is there in his noble hand,
A harp of purest gold?

Is there around his noble brow,
A crown of diamonds bright?
Does he behold the Savior now,
And is it always bright?

Our dearest, Father, He did bless,
And bade him come to Him,
He gave him robes of rightousnese,
His blood doth cleanse from sin.
