MARCHED TO CAMP

Oregon Volunteers Landed From the Transports.

WELCOMED BY SAN FRANCISCANS

Ladies of the Red Cross Gave the Regiment a Dinner at the Mechanics' Pavilion.

San Francisco, July 17.—Not since the departure of the California volunteers for the Philippines have the streets of San Francisco presented such a scene of animation as they did today.

The health of the regiment is good. Private Barrett, of company H, has recovered from symptoms of pneumonia. But few of the boys are taking cold, contrary to the expectations of medical officers. The big dinners have caused more discomfort than anything else.

The San Franciscans are as hospitable as when the regiment was here before. Invitations are accumulating and the men and officers find themselves expected at banquets and entertainments.

The men will drill every day while in camp, and will appear on dress parade tomorrow for the first time since their return from Manila.

PEACE OVERTURES.

Aguinaldo Said to Be Negotiating With General Otis.

Chicago, July 19.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says: Important cablegrams have been received at the state department from the Philippine commission, and at the war department from General Otis, concerning a new move in the direction of policy.

These dispatches have been in the hands of the president for several days, but he has declined to make them public, because the ultra-optimistic views heretofore received from the same source have not been borne out by subsequent events. The latest dispatches, however, are more encouraging than the previous ones, but the president wishes to have some positive results before making them public.

All that can be learned definitely about them is that direct overtures for peace have been sent to General Otis by Aguinaldo and some of his principal leaders.

It was said by a cabinet officer tonight that if the promises are fulfilled, the volunteers now being enlisted will not be needed.

RECIPROCIITY TREATIES.

Washington, July 19.—The present week closes the period of two years prescribed by the Dingley tariff law within which reciprocity treaties may be negotiated, and, as a result, there is much activity in those foreign quarters having reciprocity negotiations pending.

The most important negotiation is that of the Franco-American treaty. These negotiations reached a rather critical stage last week, as neither side was quite satisfied with what had been given, but today the prospects have brightened materially, and it is said in high official circles that there is every prospect of a final and satisfactory conclusion of the negotiations.

Three treaties with Great Britain, relating to the West Indian colonies of Jamaica, Bermuda and Guiana also remain to be signed.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce shipped $1,500,000 to each place, and the Alaska Commercial Company a little over $500,000, and the North American Trading & Transportation Company $500,000."

"We are informed by the Bank of Commerce managers that they had in sight here, at one time this spring, $4,000,000. The bank people declare that the total output this year from the spring cleanups and summer workings will be not less than $18,000,000, and will probably reach $20,000,000."

SOLDIER TO CITIZEN.

Work of Mastering-Out the Oregon Volunteers Begins.

Pacific Coast Destined to Be World's Great Market.

THE IMPORTANCE OF EXPANSION

Secretary Wilson Says the People Are Keeping Old Glory Flying in the Philippines.

Seattle, July 18.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson will remain in this city several days, or until he has seen every farmer from whom it is possible to obtain any information. He said today:

"I am very sorry to learn that out here in Washington you are importing a great deal of stuff that should be grown at home. You do not even make the better you use. That is no way to build up the Pacific coast."

"The time has come when the coast is in a position to command the trade of the Orient and the Pacific. Millions of dollars of trade in butter alone await the Pacific coast as soon as it can supply the demand. The Pacific coast is destined to yet be the great market of the world. It has the rich country and more people in and across the Pacific to deal with."

"The coast can and will handle all of this trade in time, and it is the ambition of the department that the state of Washington shall be one of the first to enter actively into the manufacture of butter and the game to export to China, Japan and the Philippines."

"Expansion is going to be a great thing for the coast. It will open up and develop a market that would otherwise be stagnant for many years to come. The people are all beginning to see it in that light. Why, I can say that a great majority of the people of the states from here east are in favor of keeping the flag where it is."

"The feeling of President McKinley and the administration regarding the Philippines is the same as that which took us to Cuba. I believe it is our duty to teach self-government to all those whom we happen to come in contact with, and we came in contact with the Philippines through our war, in the name of humanity, with Spain. Aguinaldo is a cut-throat in Luzon, as Weyler was in Cuba. He and his followers must be brought to a realization of what self-government means. He insulted our flag and that brought on the present punishment. It is the belief of the administration that as soon as the rainy season is over peace will soon be declared—that same peace which Cuba is enjoying, after which a policy of self-government in the Philippines will come up."

"The people everywhere are enthusiastic over President McKinley, and will back up his policy of keeping Old Glory aloft, instead of allowing the Philippines to trample it in the gutter or anti-expansionists to place the old blood-stained banner of liberty under the bed."

On leaving Washington the secretary will proceed to other Pacific coast states, where he will endeavor to encourage an increase in agricultural products.
